Soviet Pilots In Egyptian Planes Watch U.S. Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet-piloted bombers bearing Egyptian Markings have kept watch on the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea, U.S. Military sources say.

The Russia - manned TU16 Badger bombers are reported based in Egypt where other aircraft of the same type have been sent by the Soviet Union to the Cairo government.

U.S. military authorities refuse to say how they knew planes with Egyptian insignia were flown by Russians, but presumably radio transmissions have been monitored.

The swept-wing Badger can carry air-to-surface missiles and attain speeds of more than 600 miles an hour. But it is highly vulnerable to U.S. carrier-based fighters capable of flying at better than twice that speed.

Israeli sources said the Soviets also are flying an amphibious type long-range reconnaissance plane the BE6, out of Egypt to maintain surveillance of the 6th Fleet.

However, the BE6 is not considered much of a threat. It is armed only with guns apparently for defense against possible attack and is very slow with a limited ceiling.

The amphibious reconnaissance plane may have been fitted with magnetic submarine detection equipment.

The U.S. 6th Fleet usually numbers about 40 vessels, including two big carriers, and operates in the Mediterranean.

Since the June 1967 Arab-Israeli war, the Soviets have kept a sizeable fleet of their own of up to 60 vessels in the Mediterranean.

In addition to bombers the Russians reportedly fly themselves, the Soviets have given the Egyptians about 60 bombers of the TU16 and IL28 type, plus more than 320 fighters.

Under Russian tutelage, the Egyptians have built a number of new airstrips with blast-resistant shelters and camouflaged anti-aircraft batteries and anti-aircraft missiles.

At the outset of the 1967 war, the fast-striking Israeli air force destroyed virtually all the Egyptian planes on the ground.

So far, in the seven months of almost continuous raids and counter-raids since last July, Israelis have not struck at any Egyptian air bases.

Russians Airlift Arms To Egypt; Mostly Defensive

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Soviet Union has begun a new airlift of arms to Egypt to help counter Israeli raids around Cairo and elsewhere in the country the newspaper Le Jour said today.

Quoting East European diplomatic sources in Beirut, the report said the airlift began three days ago and is continuing.

The French-language newspaper said the equipment arriving in Egypt aboard giant Antonov cargo planes is mostly defensive and includes anti-aircraft guns, ground-to-air missiles and mobile radar units. The Israelis claim to have knocked out most of Egypt's anti-aircraft missile launchers and radar station in the almost daily raids the Israeli air force has been making for many weeks.

The sources were quoted as saying no MIG 23 or Sukhoi 9 jets have been shipped to Egypt. These planes are the latest in the Soviet arsenal and the Egyptians are believed to have requested them urgently.

The newspaper said the airlift was unloading at Alexandria, Almazra military airfield near Cairo and in the Upper Egyptian town of Luxor. The planes are arriving at the rate of one every half hour, the paper said.

The sources reportedly said the new arms deliveries coincide with a rethinking of Egyptian methods of air defense, which so far have been unable to block Israeli raids around capital.

A "Vietnam style" system will be set up with the new equipment, the sources said, relying on "forests" of heavy machine guns around vital targets to shoot down low-flying planes. The batteries will be manned by the "popular war committees" in the home guard force which President Gamal Abdel Nasser has said will be formed soon, according to the report.

As additional protection against Israeli attack, the sources continued, Soviet air squadrons may pay friendly visits to a number of Egyptian airfields. There was a series of similar visits shortly after the 1967 war.

Cincy Strike Agreement Said Reached

CINCINNATI (AP) — Negotiators announced today an agreement has been reached to end the 32-day old strike of Cincinnati municipal workers.

Details of the agreement were not disclosed pending a vote by the union membership.

The agreement came after an all-night meeting in a downtown hotel among representatives of the Municipal Workers Union and the city.

The strike has halted all garbage and trash collections and street and water system maintenance work.

Announcement of the agreement was made by Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann.

Al Van Hagen, leader for the union in the negotiations, said the union members would vote at a meeting at 7 p.m. tonight on the agreement. He indicated the union leaders would recommend its acceptance.

He said, however details of the settlement would not be made known until the members have an opportunity to hear them and vote.

If it is accepted, he said pickets would be removed at once but he said some details would have to be worked out before the men could go back to work.

There were pickets today at the city's Convention Center. It was understood that disposition of contempt of court charges against union members was incorporated in the agreement.

There have been several arrests of union members after the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court issued an injunction to halt picketing which interfered with city services. Judge William J. Morrissey extended that this week to include interference with the business community. That came after 300 strikers staged a coffee-drinking sit-in at the downtown Stouffer's motor hotel.

Ohio Voters Get Big Choice In Primary

51 Candidates
In The Running
For State Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters will have a choice in nearly every race in the May 5 primary election.

With 51 candidates in the running, only six Republicans—three of them Supreme Court justices—and one Democrat are unopposed for nomination.

Two incumbents, Lt. Gov. John Brown and Secretary of State Ted Brown, and John D. Herbert, candidate for attorney general, have no opposition in the Republican primary.

Supreme Court Justices C. William O'Neill and Robert M. Duncan, both Republicans, are assured of re-election since nobody filed against them on either ticket. A third justice up for re-election, Republican J. J. P. Corrigan, is unopposed in the primary but will face Allen Brown of Cincinnati next November. Brown was the only Democrat to file for the post.

The 51 candidates is not a record. There were 69 hopefuls in 1949 and 68 in 1962.

The primary ticket, as it looks now, is as follows:
U. S. Senate — Republican: James A. Rhodes, Robert Taft Jr.; Democrat: John H. Glenn Jr.; John W. McFarlane, Howard W. Mendenbaum, Dr. Ken-

James Lovell To Give Up Space Flying

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — James A. Lovell Jr., whose 24 days in space are the world's record, says he'll hang up his space helmet after he commands the Apollo 13 moon-landing mission in April.

"There are a lot of people standing in line for flights," said the 40-year-old Navy captain who will be making his fourth trip into space. "I've had more than my share. So, I'll step aside after this one."

Lovell made the disclosure at an impromptu news conference Wednesday after he and civilian astronaut Fred W. Haise Jr. completed a three-hour session rehearsing their moon-walking chores.

Haise, a rookie spaceman, said, "I'm looking forward to this mission. I've invested a lot of time and training and I'd like to make more flights."

Riding with Lovell and Haise when they blast off from Cape Kennedy April 11 will be another rookie, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Thomas K. Mattingly II.

Lovell and Haise are to attempt a difficult landing in rugged lunar highlands north of the crater Fra Mauro. Scientists believe there are ancient rocks from deep beneath the surface in this area and that they might reveal much about the early history of the moon.

Lovell previously spent 14 days in space with Frank Borman on Gemini 7, four days with Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. on Gemini 12 and six days with Borman and William A. Anders on the Apollo 8 moon-orbit journey. Apollo 13 is to last 10 days, which would give Lovell a total of more than a month in space.

TET TIME seems to be snooze time for this U.S. soldier near Con Thien, just below the DMZ. Both sides set cease-fires for the Tet lunar New Year. This is the 15th cease-fire in South Vietnam and they never did take very well.

Consumer Advocate Attacks Administration 'Rights' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bess Myerson Grant, the former Miss America who looks after New York City's consumers, told Congress today an administration bill to allow group consumer court actions is "like balloon bread—substantial at first glance but short on weight."

In short, Mrs. Grant said in testimony prepared for the Senate consumer subcommittee, "the administration bill is a consumer fraud."

Her opposition was aimed at one of three administration bills that would implement the "Buyers Bill of Rights" promised by President Nixon last year.

The bill is intended to strengthen Federal Trade Commission powers and enable consumers to bring class-action lawsuits.

At the same time, however, it would limit these actions to 11 categories and allow them only after the Justice Department or the FTC had successfully sued the violator.

Mrs. Grant said a bill introduced by Democrats Frank E. Noss of Utah, chairman of the subcommittee, and Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland was far better than the administration proposal.

She said the Moss-Tydings measure, which would permit immediate class actions whenever consumer rights were violated, would put the power to seek consumer justice "where it belongs—beyond the reach of campaign contributors, industry lobbyists or Washington lawyers."

"The single most disingenuous provision in the administration bill is its prerequisite of a Justice Department or FTC action before a class suit may be brought," Mrs. Grant said.

"What assurance would consumers have that these agencies would have sufficient funding or personnel to prosecute the many thousands of instances of systematic consumer abuse that occur every year?"

Mrs. Grant said that during 1969 the FTC issued only 65 complaints of deceptive practices while her office alone received 65 each day.

"What is to stop the attorney general from opting for an arrangement with the target company whereby the company agrees to mind its manners in the future in return for the government's promise to immunize the company for past misconduct?" she asked.

"Even if the relevant agencies had both the money and the will to sue," said Mrs. Grant, "the sheer time it takes for the government to win a case precludes a meaningful subsequent consumer action. Sharp corporate lawyers can stall an FTC action for up to 30 years."

Solons Given Early Preview Of New Anticrime Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has been given a preview of a new type of police nightstick that can detect a concealed gun, a razor blade or even a narcotics kit.

The device, and still another version of it, a flashlight model, are designed to supplement antihijacking weapons-detectors now in operation at a number of airports.

Congressmen got a look at the instruments during a showing at the House Judiciary Committee chamber this week.

"The equipment promises to make the law enforcement officer's job safer and easier, and will cost the taxpayer less," said Malcolm Schwartz, president of Infinetics, Inc., a Wilmington, Del., producer of electronic magnetic devices.

The equipment was developed and tested by the Federal Aviation Administration as part of its program to deter hijackings.

Eastern Air Lines last October became the first airline to put the system in use. Trans World Airlines adopted it last December, and Pan American World Airways joined the parade last month.

The antihijacking set consists of two poles or towers which form a gate or entry way at airport ticket counters or boarding points.

When a person carrying a gun or other fairly large metal object passes between the poles, a light flashes an alarm.

The detectors can be on the hidden side of a wall, or concealed in sign-holders, guide fences or even in coat racks or umbrella stands.

A person who triggers an alarm is asked to step aside for a further check. Here an officer can point the sensor-equipped nightstick, cane or flashlight, at him to find the location of the metal object.

Charles Turner, manager of GE union relations, criticized the UAW for not conducting a secret ballot vote on the offer Wednesday night. "The time to settle negotiations is now," he said.

UAW officials said their constitution required an information meeting first. A meeting to hold a vote will be announced later said local President George Baker.

The Machinists union planned local negotiations with the plants also. Officials of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers with about 550 members, anticipated no problem with ratification.

The contract would provide an estimated 61 to 82 cents an hour in pay raises over 40 months for most of the workers.

Battlefronts Mostly Quiet For Holiday

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers attacked SAM missile sites and anti-aircraft guns in North Vietnam Monday for the second time in less than a week, the U.S. Command announced tonight.

No American aircraft were hit, the command said. In the encounter on Jan. 28, an F105 fighter-bomber and a rescue helicopter were shot down and eight Americans were missing.

The Americans disclosed the air activity over North Vietnam shortly after allied forces halted offensive operations for a 24-hour cease-fire for Tet, the Vietnamese lunar new year celebration. The allied truce began 11 hours after a four-day cease-fire proclaimed by the Viet Cong.

The U.S. Command said the circumstances of the attacks on the North Vietnamese batteries Monday were the same as those the previous week: The North Vietnamese fired on American reconnaissance planes over the North.

The attack Monday occurred "over North Vietnam near the Laotian border in the Ban Karai Pass area 30 miles west-southwest of Dong Hoi," the command said. This is about 20 miles north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

On Wednesday North Vietnam charged that waves of U.S. jet planes repeatedly attacked a number of populated areas on

Court Hears City Tax Case

Oral arguments were heard by the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday in the appeal by James Locke, 120 W. Water St., seeking reversal of a Common Pleas Court decision which upheld Circleville's one-half of one per cent city income tax.

Attorneys for Locke and City Solicitor O. Charles Hosterman presented their cases in Columbus before the judges.

Hosterman said today he had no idea how long it would be before the court hands down a decision in the matter.

Malcolm X School Faces Money Crisis

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Four months after opening its doors, an experiment in black separatist education called Malcolm X Liberation University is beset by controversy and pressed for funds. But its founder isn't giving up.

"We're planning now for another year of operation or maybe two more years," says Howard Fuller, a 29-year-old former social worker.

"With the kind of institution we're trying to develop and the kind of reaction it causes, one can't get too optimistic and think in terms of 10 years or 15 years," Fuller said in an interview. The school was named after the militant black leader who was slain after he split away from the Black Muslim movement.

Fuller opened his unorthodox—and unaccredited—university last October in a converted warehouse alongside railroad tracks in a rundown Negro section on the edge of Durham's business district.

His aim, he said, would be "nationbuilding." He explained that as being preparation of Negroes for a separatist society which would exist somewhere in the vague future in an unspecified place, probably Africa.

About 50 students enrolled for training as food scientists, tailors, architects, engineers, teachers, artists, medics, communications technicians, linguists and other specialists "to fulfill the needs of a nation," Fuller said.

Tydings Plans Carswell Delay

Will Block Vote
At Least Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph D. Tydings says he will force at least a week's delay in Senate Judiciary Committee voting on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell.

The Maryland Democrats' announcement Wednesday came as Sen. Charles E. Goodell of New York called a news conference for today amid indications he would be the first Republican senator to announce against Carswell.

Before Goodell only two senators have said publicly they would oppose the southern judge—William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota both Democrats.

Tydings' announcement that he will invoke a rule allowing any committee member to delay a vote by the panel for a week apparently means no action on the confirmation until the Senate is in the midst of a Lincoln Day recess lasting until Feb. 17.

Civil rights leaders have been urging the committee to give them more time to search for ammunition to use in their fight against the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., judge, now on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals.

Carswell, who in repudiating a white supremacy speech he made 22 years ago testified last week that he is no racist, was expected to file a statement during the day in answer to his critics.

The committee closed its public hearings Tuesday but agreed to leave the record open until midnight tonight for Carswell or anyone else who wished to submit a statement.

Student Policemen Urged By Brown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Municipalities having a difficult time recruiting policemen should consider lowering the age requirements to hire part-time officers, Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown said today.

Earlier Brown proposed part-time student policemen to help protect college campuses. His student-police proposal has been submitted to the Ohio Law Enforcement Planning Agency under the Ohio Department of Urban Affairs for funds under the Federal Safe Streets Act.

Nixon, Urban Affairs Panel In Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — President Nixon is taking his Urban Affairs Council into the nation's heartland today in an unprecedented step intended to dramatize administration concern for the cities.

The President and council, including nine Cabinet-level members, scheduled an afternoon meeting here with a White House-selected delegation of nine mayors, seven of them Republicans.

Today's focus was on medium-sized cities rather than giants such as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles.

The President and his entourage go from here to Chicago for a Friday meeting with four Midwestern governors to discuss environmental problems.

The meeting here marks one of the few times since taking office that President Nixon has met directly with a delegation of mayors. The President's last such meeting was nine months ago.

It is also the first time a session of the Urban Affairs Council has been held outside Washington.

The meeting comes at a time when criticism of the administration's urban policies, particularly from big-city Democratic mayors, is growing increasingly sharp.

Just last week the executive committee of the U.S. Conference of Mayors accused the administration of departing "from the moral commitments of two decades" in cutting back on urban renewal programs.

Such criticisms were unlikely to be sounded here. Only two of the mayors invited are Democrats and urban renewal was not on the agenda, which was geared to the model cities program and President Nixon's anti-time measures.

The setting for the meeting was not accidental. Indianapolis, the largest city in America with a Republican mayor, is one of a handful of cities experimenting with metropolitan government.

And its mayor Richard G. Lugar, 37, is considered one of the rising stars in the Republican party.

Lugar, a former Rhodes scholar and a cello player, championed the legislative move that enabled Indianapolis to burst its traditional boundaries and encompass its suburbs in Marion County.

Soviet Pilots In Egyptian Planes Watch U.S. Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet-piloted bombers bearing Egyptian Markings have kept watch on the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea, U.S. Military sources say.

The Russia - manned TU16 Badger bombers are reported based in Egypt where other aircraft of the same type have been sent by the Soviet Union to the Cairo government.

U.S. military authorities refuse to say how they knew planes with Egyptian insignia were flown by Russians, but presumably radio transmissions have been monitored.

The swept-wing Badger can carry air-to-surface missiles and attain speeds of more than 600 miles an hour. But it is highly vulnerable to U.S. carrier-based fighters capable of flying at better than twice that speed.

Israeli sources said the Soviets also are flying an amphibious type long-range reconnaissance plane the BE6, out of Egypt to maintain surveillance of the 6th Fleet.

However, the BE6 is not considered much of a threat. It is armed only with guns apparently for defense against possible attack and is very slow with a limited ceiling.

The amphibious reconnaissance plane may have been fitted with magnetic submarine detection equipment.

The U.S. 6th Fleet usually numbers about 40 vessels, including two big carriers, and operates in the Mediterranean.

Since the June 1967 Arab-Israeli war, the Soviets have kept a sizeable fleet of their own of up to 60 vessels in the Mediterranean.

In addition to bombers the Russians reportedly fly themselves, the Soviets have given the Egyptians about 60 bombers of the TU16 and IL28 type, plus more than 320 fighters.

Under Russian tutelage, the Egyptians have built a number of new airstrips with blast-resistant shelters and camouflaged anti-aircraft batteries and anti-aircraft missiles.

At the outset of the 1967 war, the fast-striking Israeli air force destroyed virtually all the Egyptian planes on the ground.

So far, in the seven months of almost continuous raids and counter-raids since last July, Israelis have not struck at any Egyptian air bases.

Russians Airlift Arms To Egypt; Mostly Defensive

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Soviet Union has begun a new airlift of arms to Egypt to help counter Israeli raids around Cairo and elsewhere in the country the newspaper Le Jour said today.

Quoting East European diplomatic sources in Beirut, the report said the airlift began three days ago and is continuing.

The French-language newspaper said the equipment arriving in Egypt aboard giant Antonov cargo planes is mostly defensive and includes anti-aircraft guns, ground-to-air missiles and mobile radar units.

The Israelis claim to have knocked out most of Egypt's anti-aircraft missile launchers and radar station in the almost daily raids the Israeli air force has been making for many weeks.

The sources were quoted as saying no MIG 23 or Sukhoi 9 jets have been shipped to Egypt. These planes are the latest in the Soviet arsenal and the Egyptians are believed to have requested them urgently.

The newspaper said the airlift was unloading at Alexandria, Almaz military airport near Cairo and in the Upper Egyptian town of Luxor. The planes are arriving at the rate of one every half hour, the paper said.

The sources reportedly said the new arms deliveries coincide with a rethinking of Egyptian methods of air defense, which so far have been unable to block Israeli raids around capital.

A "Vietnam style" system will be set up with the new equipment, the sources said, relying on "forests" of heavy machine guns around vital targets to shoot down low-flying planes.

The batteries will be manned by the "popular war committees," the home guard force which President Gamal Abdel Nasser has said will be formed soon, according to the report.

As additional protection against Israeli attack, the sources continued, Soviet air squadrons may pay friendly visits to a number of Egyptian airfields. There was a series of similar visits shortly after the 1967 war.

Cincy Strike Agreement Said Reached

CINCINNATI (AP) — Negotiators announced today an agreement has been reached to end the 32-day old strike of Cincinnati municipal workers.

Details of the agreement were not disclosed pending a vote by the union membership.

The agreement came after an all-night meeting in a downtown hotel among representatives of the Municipal Workers Union and the city.

The strike has halted all garbage and trash collections and street and water system maintenance work.

Announcement of the agreement was made by Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann.

Al Van Hagen, leader for the union in the negotiations, said the union members would vote at a meeting at 7 p.m. tonight on the agreement. He indicated the union leaders would recommend its acceptance.

He said, however, details of the settlement would not be made known until the members have an opportunity to hear them and vote.

If it is accepted, he said pickets would be removed at once but he said some details would have to be worked out before the men could go back to work.

There were pickets today at the city's Convention Center. It was understood that disposition of contempt of court charges against union members was incorporated in the agreement.

Battlefronts Mostly Quiet For Holiday

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers attacked SAM missile sites and anti-aircraft guns in North Vietnam Monday for the second time in less than a week, the U.S. Command announced tonight.

No American aircraft were hit, the command said. In the encounter on Jan. 28, an F105 fighter-bomber and a rescue helicopter were shot down and eight Americans were missing.

The Americans disclosed the air activity over North Vietnam shortly after allied forces halted offensive operations for a 24-hour cease-fire for Tet, the Vietnamese lunar new year celebration.

The allied truce began 11 hours after a four-day cease-fire proclaimed by the Viet Cong.

The U.S. Command said the circumstances of the attacks on the North Vietnamese batteries Monday were the same as those the previous week: The North Vietnamese fired on American reconnaissance planes over the North.

The attack Monday occurred "over North Vietnam near the Laotian border in the Ban Karai Pass area 30 miles west-southwest of Dong Hoi," the command said. This is about 20 miles north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

On Wednesday North Vietnam charged that waves of U.S. jet planes repeatedly attacked a number of populated areas on

Court Hears City Tax Case

Oral arguments were heard by the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday in the appeal by James Locke, 120 W. Water St., seeking reversal of a Common Pleas Court decision which upheld Circleville's one-half of one per cent city income tax.

Attorneys for Locke and City Solicitor O. Charles Hosterman presented their cases in Columbus before the judges.

Hosterman said today he had no idea how long it would be before the court hands down a decision in the matter.

Malcolm X School Faces Money Crisis

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Four months after opening its doors, an experiment in black separatist education called Malcolm X Liberation University is beset by controversy and pressed for funds. But its founder isn't giving up.

"We're planning now for another year of operation or maybe two more years," says Howard Fuller, a 29-year-old former social worker.

"With the kind of institution we're trying to develop and the kind of reaction it causes, one can't get too optimistic and think in terms of 10 years or 15 years," Fuller said in an interview. The school was named after the militant black leader who was slain after he split away from the Black Muslim movement.

Fuller opened his unorthodox—and unaccredited—university last October in a converted warehouse alongside railroad tracks in a rundown Negro section on the edge of Durham's business district.

Its aim, he said, would be "nationbuilding." He explained that as being preparation of Negroes for a separatist society which would exist somewhere in the vague future in an unspecified place, probably Africa.

About 50 students enrolled for training as food scientists, tailors, architects, engineers, teachers, artists, medics, communications technicians, linguists and other specialists "to fulfill the needs of a nation," Fuller said.

Tydings Plans Carswell Delay

Will Block Vote
At Least Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph D. Tydings says he will force at least a week's delay in Senate Judiciary Committee voting on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell.

The Maryland Democrats announcement Wednesday came as Sen. Charles E. Goodell of New York called a news conference for today amid indications he would be the first Republican senator to announce against Carswell.

Before Goodell only two senators have said publicly they would oppose the southern judge—William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota both Democrats.

Tydings announcement that he will invoke a rule allowing any committee member to delay a vote by the panel for a week apparently means no action on the confirmation until the Senate is in the midst of a Lincoln Day recess lasting until Feb. 17.

Civil rights leaders have been urging the committee to give them more time to search for ammunition to use in their fight against the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., judge, now on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals.

Carswell, who in repudiating a white supremacy speech he made 22 years ago testified last week that he is no racist, was expected to file a statement during the day in answer to his critics.

The committee closed its public hearings Tuesday but agreed to leave the record open until midnight tonight for Carswell or anyone else who wished to submit a statement.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — American savers cashed in more savings bonds than they bought in the last 14 months, causing concern in the Treasury Department.

Treasury officials expect the trend to turn around soon, however, because of increased interest rates approved for savings bonds by Congress late last year.

The department reported Wednesday that $29 million of Series E and H bonds and Freedom Shares were redeemed during January compared with $107 million in new bonds sold.

The $122 million deficit was the highest of the long slide that started in December 1968. Congress, in an effort to make bonds more competitive with other forms of savings, raised interest rates from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — One part of the medicare program will cost an estimated $131 billion more in the next 25 years than first forecast, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., reports.

Long, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, told news- men he hopes Congress will approve cost control measures to prevent at least half of the cost overrun.

The program is Part A of medicare, which covers mainly hospitalization for persons over 65. It is financed by Social Security taxes.

Long noted the administration is seeking tax increases totaling $136 billion over the next 25 years to finance the extra costs.

"I hope we can do something to prevent the American people from having to pay this prodigious bill when many of the increases are unjustified," he said.

The Finance Committee staff has finished a lengthy report on the cost increases in health programs. The report, to be made public next week, highlights some of the abuses and recommends ways to stop fraud and hold down costs, Long said.

Man Of Year Can't Get Drink In Bar

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Air Force Col. Daniel "Chap- pie" James was named "Man of the Year" by the Pensacola Ki- wanis Club one night and re- fused a drink in a bar the next by a man who said he had never served a Negro.

James, who commands Wheel- us Air Force Base in Libya, was recently appointed assist- ant deputy secretary for public affairs in the Defense Depart- ment.

"I didn't make a big noise about it at the time," he said Wednesday in Washington.

"I was sensitive to the fact ... that it may be embarrass- ing to the very people I didn't want to be embarrassed. I knew how the people who mattered in Pensacola felt about me."

Jack Horne, owner and oper- ator of the lounge, said in an in- terview that he denied admis- sion to James Friday night, "because it's always been a cus- tom with us" not to serve Negroes.

"We never have, and I couldn't make any exceptions in that particular case. I couldn't do otherwise and be fair to all my customers," Horne said.

Horne's Torch Lounge is near Pensacola's Navy yard but he said its clientele is mostly civil- ians—"it's a neighborhood group."

Horne, 56, said military police had discussed the incident with him, but he had heard nothing further.

Interest Earnings Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer John D. Her- bert reported today that interest earnings from investments of state funds have established a record high. With five months re- maining in the current fiscal year, Herbert said interest earnings for the first seven months reached $28.7 million. The previous high was $25.4 mil- lion set during the 12 months of the 1967-68 fiscal year.

Tornado Toll Down To 66 During 1969

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Tor- nadoes took 66 lives in the United States in 1969 fewer than in any year since 1963, the Nation- al Severe Storm Forecast Cen- ter reported today.

It said there were 607 tor- nadoes last year and that num- ber was 50 fewer than the 10- year average.

Allen D. Pearson, director of the center, said he believes three factors held down the in- cidence of tornadoes and loss of life:

—Cool weather the first three months reduced tornado develop- ment.

—Operation Skyward, a Weather Bureau program to give community wide instruc- tions and warning.

—Pure chance.

"No major U.S. cities were hit by tornadoes in 1969, which nat- urally reduced the death toll," Pearson said. The closest was a twister that killed four persons in a Cincinnati, Ohio, suburb Aug. 9.

While the national average used to be one death per tor- nado, Pearson said, it now stands at one death in seven tornadoes, reflecting improved forecasting and warning methods.

Tornadoes have been reported over the years in all 50 states and in every month of the year, Pearson said.

In general, Pearson said, 1969 twisters were concentrated in the traditional "tornado alley," which begins in north-central Texas, extends through Oklaho- ma, eastern Kansas, western Missouri, eastern Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana and ends in Ohio. It includes south- ern sections of Michigan, Wis- consin, Minnesota and the east- ern Dakotas.

Battlefronts

Similarly, after the attack on Jan. 28, the North Vietnamese charged that the U.S. planes had bombed and strafed popu- lated places.

When the United States an- nounced suspension of the bombing of North Vietnam on Nov. 1, 1968, it said that recon- naissance flights would continue over the North and that fighter- bombers would accompany the photo jets to protect them.

The U.S. Command has said it reports U.S. retaliatory attacks on North Vietnamese territory only when they are considered "significant," and heretofore the only attacks considered sig- nificant have been ones in which American planes were lost.

Since the bombing halt over North Vietnam, there have been more than 50 American retali- atory air attacks in North Viet- nam, but less than a fourth of these have been made public by the U.S. Command.

Nine U.S. aircraft have been shot down over North Vietnam in the 15 months since former President Lyndon B. Johnson halted the bombing.

There was no immediate ex- planation why the command made its announcement today since no planes were lost.

American B52 raids were sus- pended across South Vietnam tonight as part of the Tet cease- fire. But informants said the big bombers increased their raids on North Vietnamese supply de- pots in Laos just across from the A Shau Valley.

U.S. Demands Inspection Of POW Camps

PARIS (AP) — The United States told North Vietnam today it has new evidence of inhu- man treatment of U.S. war prisoners and demanded that impartial observers be per- mitted to inspect the camps.

U.S. Ambassador Philip C. Habib raised the charge at the 53rd session of the Vietnam peace talks where Col. Ha Van Lau, represented North Viet- nam.

Dwelling on the prisoner of war issue, Habib asserted: "Your consistent refusal to abide by the 1949 Geneva con- vention on the treatment of pris- oners is viewed by Americans and world opinion with dis- may."

He said it was essential that impartial observers inspect ene- my prisoner camps since "we have new shocking evidence that prisoners of war whom you hold are subject to inhumane treatment."

"Only recently it was discov- ered that your forces in South Vietnam had executed two American prisoners captured in 1966 after having put them on public display in several vil- lages," the U.S. delegate said.

"This is a grave breach of the 1949 Geneva Convention and is unacceptable when measured against any standard of civil- ized behavior."

Habib summarized the Geneva Convention's requirements for prisoner treatment: identi- fication of prisoners, prisoner freedom to correspond freely with their families, impartial observers to pay regular visits to the camps and finally, repa- triation of seriously sick and wounded captives.

Before going into the talks Habib told reporters the United States wanted an exchange of sick and wounded captives.

He said the United States is prepared to begin discussions without delay for immediate re- lease of all sick and wounded prisoners, as well as the early release of all prisoners of war held by both sides.

County Officers Retain Leaders

The Elected Official Association retained its slate of officers for 1970 at the reorganization meeting Wed- nesday night.

The association, formed in 1969, is made up of Pickaway county elected officials. Association president is Hazel M. Yeatts, county recorder; vice president, Charles Morris; county commissioner; secretary-treasurer, Sara M. Dresbach, clerk of courts.

A decision made by the county officials at the Wed- nesday meeting was that all legal holidays would be ob- served in the county courthouse offices as set out in the General Code of Ohio in effect during 1970.

The first legal holiday to be observed in the court house will be Lincoln's birthday on Feb. 12.

Urge President To Join Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Re- publican Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. today urged President Nixon to join Congress in re-ex- amining the nation's interna- tional commitments.

The Maryland senator called for the President to support a resolution he described as "a legislative combination of the Nixon plan for total withdrawal of American forces from Viet- nam with the Nixon doctrine to limit American commitments abroad."

Mathias discussed his propos- al in testimony prepared for the third and final day of hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Vietnam-related proposals.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, meanwhile, said he hopes the Mathias proposal will be approved by the committee and come before the full Senate. Mansfield is a cosponsor.

The resolution repeals four past congressional grants of power to the President, includ- ing the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin Res- olution used as the basis for dispatch of troops to Vietnam.

In addition, Mathias said, it "would declare support for the President's determination to pursue a political rather than a military solution in Vietnam and would endorse his plan for the withdrawal of all American forces from South Vietnam as soon as possible."

It urges the President to seek creation of an international peace-keeping force "to prevent reprisals against any of the South Vietnamese people after the departure of American troops" and calls on leaders of South Vietnam to open talks "designed eventually to produce a new broadly based govern- ment."

By supporting the proposal, Mathias said, "The President would reassure the country and the Congress of the depth of his commitment to these goals and dissipate some of the anxieties and misconceptions prevailing in the land."

...there's still a bright side with Gas Heat!

No matter what kind of heat you have . . . it figures: The colder it gets outside, the more heat you use to warm the inside. So your heating bills will be somewhat higher as a result of the cold snap.

But for people who depend on modern gas heat, there's always a bright side. Clean, dependable natural gas is still the most economical fuel for heating . . . by far! Gas-heated households enjoy unmatched heating efficiency, comfort and convenience—no matter how cold it gets outside. It's a comforting thought for a long winter's night.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — American savers cashed in more savings bonds than they bought in the last 14 months, causing concern in the Treasury Department.

Treasury officials expect the trend to turn around soon, however, because of increased interest rates approved for savings bonds by Congress late last year.

The department reported Wednesday that $529 million of Series E and H bonds and Freedom Shares were redeemed during January compared with $407 million in new bonds sold.

The $122 million deficit was the highest of the long slide that started in December 1968.

Congress, in an effort to make bonds more competitive with other forms of savings, raised interest rates from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — One part of the medicare program will cost an estimated $131 billion more in the next 25 years than first forecast, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., reports.

Long, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, told newsmen he hopes Congress will approve cost control measures to prevent at least half of the cost overrun.

The program is Part A of medicare, which covers mainly hospitalization for persons over 65. It is financed by Social Security taxes.

Long noted the administration is seeking tax increases totaling $136 billion over the next 25 years to finance the extra costs.

"I hope we can do something to prevent the American people from having to pay this prodigious bill when many of the increases are unjustified," he said.

The Finance Committee staff has finished a lengthy report on the cost increases in health programs. The report, to be made public next week, highlights some of the abuses and recommends ways to stop fraud and hold down costs, Long said.

"It seems to me very likely that these talks will now fall into stalemate—along with those in Paris on Vietnam—at least until the development of an ABM system by us is matched by a similar development of an ABM on the other side," Sen. Man Of Year Can't Get Drink In Bar

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Air Force Col. Daniel "Chap" James was named "Man of the Year" by the Pensacola Kiwanis Club one night and refused a drink in a bar the next day by a man who said he had never served a Negro.

James, who commands Wheelus Air Force Base in Libya, was recently appointed assistant deputy secretary for public affairs in the Defense Department.

"I didn't make a big noise about it at the time," he said Wednesday in Washington.

"I was sensitive to the fact that it may be embarrassing to the very people I didn't want to be embarrassed. I knew how the people who mattered in Pensacola felt about me."

Jack Horne, owner and operator of the lounge, said in an interview that he denied admission to James Friday night, "because it's always been a custom with us" not to serve Negroes.

"We never have, and I couldn't make any exceptions in that particular case. I couldn't do otherwise and be fair to all my customers," Horne said. Horne's Torch Lounge is near Pensacola's Navy yard but he said its clientele is mostly civilians—"it's a neighborhood group."

Horne, 56, said military police had discussed the incident with him, but he had heard nothing further.

Interest Earnings Up
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer John D. Herbert reported today that interest earnings from investments of state funds have established a record high. With five months remaining in the current fiscal year, Herbert said interest earnings for the first seven months reached $28.7 million. The previous high was $25.4 million set during the 12 months of the 1967-68 fiscal year.

Tornado Toll Down To 66 During 1969

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Tornadoes took 66 lives in the United States in 1969, fewer than in any year since 1963, the National Severe Storm Forecast Center reported today.

It said there were 607 tornadoes last year and that number was 50 fewer than the 10-year average.

Allen D. Pearson, director of the center, said he believes three factors held down the incidence of tornadoes and loss of life:

—Cool weather the first three months reduced tornado development.

—Operation Skyward, a Weather Bureau program to give community wide instructions and warning.

—Pure chance.

"No major U.S. cities were hit by tornadoes in 1969, which naturally reduced the death toll," Pearson said. The closest was a twister that killed four persons in a Cincinnati, Ohio, suburb Aug. 9.

While the national average used to be one death per tornado, Pearson said, it now stands at one death in seven tornadoes, reflecting improved forecasting and warning methods.

Tornadoes have been reported over the years in all 50 states and in every month of the year, Pearson said.

In general, Pearson said, 1969 twisters were concentrated in the traditional "tornado alley," which begins in north-central Texas, extends through Oklahoma, eastern Kansas, western Missouri, eastern Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana and ends in Ohio. It includes southern sections of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the eastern Dakotas.

Battlefronts

Monday in Quang Binh Province, the same province where the U.S. Command reported the attack on the anti-aircraft sites.

Similarly, after the attacks on Jan. 28, the North Vietnamese charged that the U.S. planes had bombed and strafed populated places.

When the United States announced suspension of the bombing of North Vietnam on Nov. 1, 1968, it said that reconnaissance flights would continue over the North and that fighter-bombers would accompany the photo jets to protect them.

The U.S. Command has said it reports U.S. retaliatory attacks on North Vietnamese territory only when they are considered "significant," and heretofore the only attacks considered significant have been ones in which American planes were lost.

Since the bombing halt over North Vietnam, there have been more than 50 American retaliatory air attacks in North Vietnam, but less than a fourth of these have been made public by the U.S. Command.

Nine U.S. aircraft have been shot down over North Vietnam in the 15 months since former President Lyndon B. Johnson halted the bombing.

There was no immediate explanation why the command made its announcement today since no planes were lost.

American B52 raids were suspended across South Vietnam tonight as part of the Tet cease-fire. But informants said the big bombers increased their raids on North Vietnamese supply depots in Laos just across from the A Shau Valley.

Man Slated For Testimony On Yablonski

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A United Mine Workers field representative from LaFollette, Tenn., was scheduled to testify today before a federal grand jury investigating the slaying of UMW insurgent Joseph A. Yablonski.

William J. Prater is the first official from UMW District 19, which covers Tennessee and parts of Kentucky, to be subpoenaed to appear before the jury.

However, Silious Huddleston, 61, president of UMW Local 3228 in LaFollette, has been waiting since last Thursday to be called before the grand jury. Two other officers of Local 3228 testified Tuesday.

Huddleston is the father-in-law of Paul E. Gilly, one of three Cleveland men indicted by the jury a week ago on charges of conspiring to kill Yablonski. His daughter, Annette Gilly, 29, was named a co-conspirator in the indictment, but not indicted.

The indictment charging Gilly, 36, Claude E. Vealey, 26, and Aubran W. Martin, 21, said a plot to kill Yablonski was financed from a fund maintained by Gilly, but left open the question of who provided the money for the alleged plot.

The jury charged that preparations for the Yablonski killing involved trips to LaFollette.

Glenn Huddleston, 37, of Trenton, Mich., one of Silious Huddleston's 11 children, was among the grand jury witnesses Wednesday. Also testifying were his brother, Charles, 28, and the latter's wife, Gail, 25, of Toledo, and Charles Schmittou, 36, of Akron, who is married to Silious Huddleston's daughter, Helen.

All the witnesses refused to comment to newsmen on their testimony.

Police Say Mental Patient May Have Bombed Station

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Suburban Shaker Heights police say they believe a 21-year-old man may have bombed the community's municipal building and died in the blast Monday night.

Police Chief Carl Longstreet said he would hold a news conference today to announce results of comparison of hair fragments found in the debris and hair found in a brush in the Shaker Heights home of Martin Berns. Other details also would be announced, the chief said.

Fifteen persons were injured in the blast, one critically. Initially, it was believed that all persons had been removed from the wreckage and that no one was killed.

Police said Tuesday that they believed the explosion may have been caused by gas—probably sewer gas—but did not entirely rule out the possibility of a bombing.

When bits of hair, bone and flesh were found in the wreckage Wednesday, investigators said they thought the building probably was bombed.

An area around Berns' home was sealed off Wednesday and police removed a large box of explosives, a carbine and several boxes of ammunition.

Earlier, police had taken an M1, two hand guns, four hand grenades, several fuses and ammunition from a car registered to Berns' mother and parked about 500 feet from the municipal building.

Berns, a former mental patient, has not been seen since the blast.

"We think he worked alone and we don't think he was contemplating suicide," Longstreet said.

Berns was described by Dr. William Grover of Cleveland State Hospital as a "non-psychotic passive-aggressive personality," a type, he said, who seldom acts out aggression.

An Early Rush

Back to fence-mending in their constituencies by Labor Day. Mindful that this is election year, Senate Majority Leader Mansfield has once more set this goal for congressional adjournment — though more in hope than in confidence.

Congress has managed to close by Labor Day only a third of the time since World War II, but there's little apparent reason it could not do so almost every year.

A major hazard seems to be that September does not seem particularly imminent in January, thus leading to a slow start (an increase in the debt ceiling was the only major bill both House and Senate managed to pass by last July 1).

Setting a summer deadline and threatening Saturday meetings to achieve it, as Sen. Mansfield has done, is a fine idea if it can substitute early progress for a last-minute rush.

But chances are that the fence-mending opportunities in holidays and four-day weekends will still rate as highly as those just prior to election, with a result that Sept. 7 will find members of Congress again only talking of getting away.

Britain Bounds Back

That unsinkable island off the coast of Europe has done it again. In almost matter of fact tones, Britain has announced it has racked up four monthly trade surpluses in a row, expects the year to end with a comfortable surplus and the pound is now bringing a premium on world money markets.

It seems like only a few months ago that Britain was down and out — again — monetarily and economically. She was all but broke, her currency supported by friends, her exports badly lagging behind imports, and her trade balance sinking deeper in red ink.

Can this be the same country? Well, yes and no. Britain is more a spirit than a national entity, particularly since the shrinkage of the empire.

Things coast along for a while, until the spirit sags and the national economy begins to fall apart at the seams.

At that point, whatever government happens to be in power issues all types of austerity measures, friendly governments begin to prop up the pound, and before anyone is aware what is happening the British spirit becomes aroused (never excited) and suddenly the ship of state is sailing smoothly again.

It is an interesting phenomenon, one which defies analysis by political sophisticates. If the British spirit could be bottled and exported, suddenly many of the world's problems would seem less insoluble.

Chippewas Scalp Taxman

Members of the Chippewa Indian tribe living on the Red Lake Reservation in Minnesota have suddenly become popular with relatives living off the reservation. The State Supreme Court has ruled they need not pay state income taxes.

The territory never was formally ceded to the United States, and the court ruled "the federal government has not granted to the state civil or criminal jurisdiction over members of this tribe." Although the Red Lake Reservation covers a territory equivalent to the state of Rhode Island, only 3,900 members of the tribe live there. Since Indians living outside the reservation are not included in the tax bonanza, the population of the reservation may now grow rapidly.

Would the Red Lake Chippewas consider adopting some palefaces into the tribe?

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's proposed budget represents the serious beginnings of an effort to rechannel American energies into improving the domestic environment, rather than simply defending it with arms.

Such a shift in thinking was bound to develop. It had become too obvious to Americans that while they were spending more and more millions to defend their way of life, that life was deteriorating badly.

The Nixon budget says, in effect, that while crime, pollution and the defects in welfare are brought about by deep ailments in society, the start toward correcting them can begin with the diversion of funds from defense.

It will be the first time in 20 years, the President said, that the federal government will spend more on human resource programs than on defense. If it works out, that spending will be 41 cents of each tax dollar for human resources and 36 cents for defense.

The curtailing of defense spending is viewed also as part of the battle against inflation. By restraining such spending, it is assumed that pressures on prices will be made throughout a large area of the economy.

There appears to be a weakness in the battle plan however, for the President is attempting to shift the course of the nation, to begin new efforts, while unfinished business remains.

The main unfinished business, of course, is Vietnam. The President declined to estimate the cost of the war during the fiscal year and thus suggests that his budget surplus is precariously balanced and uncertain.

An escalation of the war could eliminate the anticipated $1.3 billion surplus. But perhaps a further slowdown of military activities could provide him with a larger surplus.

Another bit of unfinished business is inflation.

If the dollar's value continues to erode, the President, like other Americans, is going to find his budgeted funds won't stretch as far as he had hoped.

The current seige of inflation apparently has made the President feel that good housing, a requirement of any program to improve the quality of life, must be postponed.

The reasoning for such an attitude is based on the assumption that the recession in the housing industry is the result mainly of high money costs and that the industry cannot recover until these costs come down.

In the Nixon view, however, money prices aren't going to fall until inroads are made against inflation: by balancing the federal budget and reducing the federal government's need for competing in the money markets.

In fact, the need to control inflation is denying the administration the energy it needs for its vigorous reordering of priorities. It is a shift of thinking but it is the beginning of the reordering.

May Hire Designers For State Building

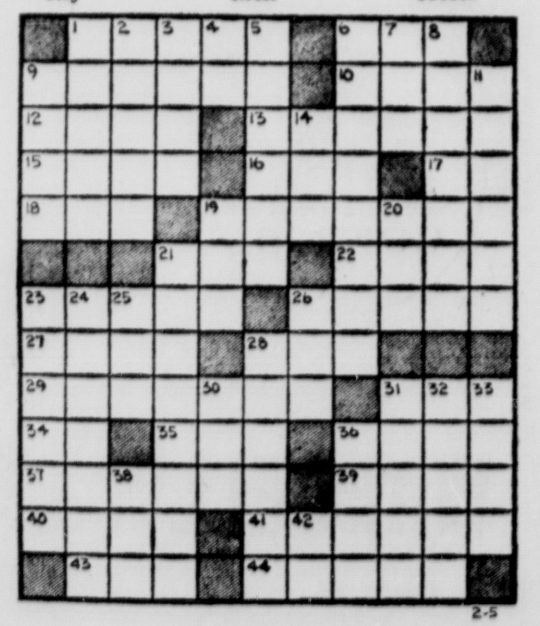

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Legislative Office Building Committee recommended Wednesday that the Ohio Building Authority hire the architectural firms of Dalton, Dalton and Little in Cleveland and Brubaker and Brandt, Ind., Columbus, to design the proposed new state office building.

The new building, expected to be 24 or more stories high, will be built on Broad Street across from the Statehouse at an estimated cost of $30 million.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been getting a series of injections in order to avoid an operation for hemorrhoids. How long does it take to obtain the full benefits?

Mr. G. W., Rhode Island

Dear Mr. W.: There seems to be some confusion in your letter about the reason for the injections. These are never used "in order to avoid" surgery.

Rather, injections of chemicals into the hemorrhoids are used in carefully selected cases not because the doctor believes he can obtain an excellent result in this way. How long it takes depends on the individual case. Hemorrhoids are clusters of small veins, and when they are not markedly enlarged or complicated, an injection of a chemical will seal off the pile or hemorrhoid. In many instances this method is very effective. Naturally, a patient will always tend to try to avoid an operation. This is understandable but is not always the realistic approach to a problem.

In many instances surgery may be the simplest, the fastest and the surest way to obtain permanent relief. Far too many people will also be tempted to use expensive ointments in an effort to delay the real medical treatment they deserve.

Help! This is my cry in the hope that I can find something for my husband's snoring. I seem to spend half the night listening to his buzz saw, while he blissfully is undisturbed by the racket. Are there any new devices if there is no medical way to control snoring?

Mrs. O. F. L., Colorado
Dear Mrs. L.: Welcome to the club which has members in all geographic areas and in all social circles.

Like your husband, the snorer soundly sleeps through the symphonic cacophony without any awareness of the sensitive eardrums of his captive audience. Not much has been done or understood about this common "social" condition. Unless there is obvious disease, such as adenoid in children or nasal polyps in adults or any other obvious medical condition, snoring is usually due to relaxation of the muscles of the jaw, the tongue, the palate, and the throat during sleep.

There are a number of simple devices that may accomplish their anti-snoring purpose. Most of these are chin straps with an elastic band which is worn over the head. In some instances this can be effective.

After all medical causes are eliminated and after the simple custom or home-made devices fail, then comes the inevitable need for plugging the listener's ears to find his own peaceful slumber. Such plugs are available.

What is meant by the "mask of pregnancy?"

Mrs. E. N., Virginia

Dear Mrs. N.: Only occasionally does a brownish discoloration appear on the cheeks of pregnant women. This facial blemish is known as chloasma and usually disappears shortly after the child is born. It has been suggested that it is caused by a temporary hormone imbalance that may be associated with pregnancy.

Today is Thursday, Feb. 5, the 36th day of 1970. There are 329 days left in the year.

Year Of Ecology

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Is the steam going out of the anti-war protest movements? I laid aside, for future reference, some of the New Left promises made last November of "further nationwide protest activities in December — across the country on the twelfth through the fifteenth — and more large public events in the spring." The December "moratoria" either never materialized or if they did they caused no widespread journalistic ripples.

So what of the "large public events" promised for the spring? Since President Nixon is still pulling U.S. troops out of South Vietnam, can the New Left work up any real passion for new marches and demonstrations against "imperialism"? Somehow one doubts it.

Interestingly enough, the recent pronouncements of Professor Staughton Lynd, the leftist historian who quit Yale to go to Roosevelt University in Chicago for a short period, tend to confirm the doubt. Speaking at a midwest "Youth Organizing Project" in November, Lynd said that demonstrations in Washington, D. C., failed to get at the heart of the matter. What he suggested was a new form of protest aimed at our "international corporations." These, he said, were the real instigators of American "imperialism."

He proposed a number of spring demonstrations aimed at involving "masses of people, not just a dedicated few," in "anti-corporate actions" designed to embarrass General Electric, Westinghouse, Boeing, Martin Marietta, General Motors, and Standard Oil of New Jersey, all of whom he inferentially accused of making money out of being part of the military-industrial complex.

For the benefit of students who have no idea of how to embarrass an "international corporation," Professor Lynd listed the dates of spring stockholders meetings. He suggested that some demonstrators should "work from within the meeting," while others conducted "supporting actions at the plants owned by the target corporations, and on the campuses to which they send their recruiters." The campus protests could make propagandistic capital by showing that the "universities are deeply involved in war through their stock investments."

If this is the best that Staughton Lynd can come up with, I think his career as Field Marshal of the Revolution is just about over. He wants to make clear to "the General Electric stockholders' meeting in Beverly Hills" that the "people" are very much against GE's "imperialism." However, the GE stockholders have other things than GE "war activity" to worry about these days. The company has been put through the wringer in a long strike, and it is much more concerned about recouping its domestic consumer markets than it is about "war production."

What Staughton Lynd does not know is that layoffs in the so-called aerospace industries are well under way. Workers are now worried about their jobs, and stockholders want to see profitable domestic production picking up where war — connected activities are tapering off. As for Wall Street, it is totally weary of the war, which is blamed for inflation, onerous business taxes, the high cost of investment money, and the low estate of the Dow-Jones average. All Staughton Lynd will get from stockholders for his "Marxist-Leninist" analysis is a great big yawn.

The New Left is breaking up for want of a unified mass base, and Field Marshal Lynd will shortly discover that his soldiers are marching off in a score of different directions. The Students for a Democratic Society have split up into the Weatherman faction, the Worker Student Alliance, the Mad Dogs, the Crazies, the Revolutionary Youth Movement, and Heaven knows what else. And the big new thing on the campuses — and in the mass media — is the "environment." "Ecology," not imperialism, is the study of the day. Professor Lynd will have to recheck his premises when the spring campus protests, stirred by Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, begin to hit at the automobile companies, not for their war-related activities (if any), but for their failure to provide smog-free internal combustion systems.

NEW YORK (AP) — Our lives are swept by winds of change.

As soon as we get accustomed to a new thing, it is replaced by something newer. We can't go home again, because if we do we find the old home has been torn down, so that some stranger can erect an apartment building or a glorified hamburger stand on its site.

All this incessant change baffles us, confuses us, makes us nervous. We seek the security of an anchor to cling to, something changeless and true, something impervious to time.

"Isn't there anything we can count on to stay the same?" we ask ourselves desperately. Why, of course, there is. There are lots of things you can depend on.

Such as: A shoestring will never break except when you are in a hurry. The strawberries in the bottom of a box you buy at a fruit stand will be greener than those on the top.

No matter how mean a letter you write to your congressman, you'll always get a soothing letter back.

Any clock in a hotel lobby will be from three to five minutes late.

No matter how many closets they build in an apartment, they'll still be one fewer than a woman needs.

A dog will always wag his tail when you feed him, even though what you put before him is the kind of stuff he doesn't think it fits even for a human being.

April showers will bring May flowers.

It'll rain within 48 hours after you give your car a polishing.

The teen-agers in your life will worry more about getting pimples than getting into a good college.

Somewhere along the way some kind of disaster will happen to some of your possessions that isn't covered by insurance.

During middle age you can be sure you'll have at least one illness for which you'll have to go to the hospital.

There'll always be some kind of war in some part of the world.

Despite the fad for new names for babies, Johns and Marys will still outnumber Christophers and Kims.

The cost of living will never be what it was in the good old days.

Feminine skirts and the stock market will go up and down, down and up.

Yes, despite the chaos in our changing lives, some things never change. But that isn't altogether consoling either, is it? Many we wish would.

An Early Rush

Back to fence-mending in their constituencies by Labor Day. Mindful that this is election year, Senate Majority Leader Mansfield has once more set this goal for congressional adjournment — though more in hope than in confidence.

Congress has managed to close by Labor Day only a third of the time since World War II, but there's little apparent reason it could not do so almost every year.

A major hazard seems to be that September does not seem particularly imminent in January, thus leading to a slow start (an increase in the debt ceiling was the only major bill both House and Senate managed to pass by last July 1).

Setting a summer deadline and threatening Saturday meetings to achieve it, as Sen. Mansfield has done, is a fine idea if it can substitute early progress for a last-minute rush.

But chances are that the fence-mending opportunities in holidays and four-day weekends will still rate as highly as those just prior to election, with a result that Sept. 7 will find members of Congress again only talking of getting away.

Britain Bounds Back

That unsinkable island off the coast of Europe has done it again. In almost matter of fact tones, Britain has announced it has racked up four monthly trade surpluses in a row, expects the year to end with a comfortable surplus and the pound is now bringing a premium on world money markets.

It seems like only a few months ago that Britain was down and out — again — monetarily and economically. She was all but broke, her currency supported by friends, her exports badly lagging behind imports, and her trade balance sinking deeper in red ink.

Can this be the same country? Well, yes and no. Britain is more a spirit than a national entity, particularly since the shrinkage of the empire.

Things coast along for a while, until the spirit sags and the national economy begins to fall apart at the seams.

At that point, whatever government happens to be in power issues all types of austerity measures, friendly governments begin to prop up the pound, and before anyone is aware what is happening the British spirit becomes aroused (never excited) and suddenly the ship of state is sailing smoothly again.

It is an interesting phenomenon, one which defies analysis by political sophisticates. If the British spirit could be bottled and exported, suddenly many of the world's problems would seem less insoluble.

Chippewas Scalp Taxman

Members of the Chippewa Indian tribe living on the Red Lake Reservation in Minnesota have suddenly become popular with relatives living off the reservation. The State Supreme Court has ruled they need not pay state income taxes.

The territory never was formally ceded to the United States, and the court ruled "the federal government has not granted to the state civil or criminal jurisdiction over members of this tribe." Although the Red Lake Reservation covers a territory equivalent to the state of Rhode Island, only 3,900 members of the tribe live there. Since Indians living outside the reservation are not included in the tax bonanza, the population of the reservation may now grow rapidly.

Would the Red Lake Chippewas consider adopting some palefaces into the tribe?

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's proposed budget represents the serious beginnings of an effort to rechannel American energies into improving the domestic environment, rather than simply defending it with arms.

Such a shift in thinking was bound to develop. It had become too obvious to Americans that while they were spending more and more millions to defend their way of life, that life was deteriorating badly.

The Nixon budget says, in effect, that while crime, pollution and the defects in welfare are brought about by deep ailments in society, the start toward correcting them can begin with the diversion of funds from defense.

It will be the first time in 20 years, the President said, that the federal government will spend more on human resource programs than on defense. If it works out, that spending will be 41 cents of each tax dollar for human resources and 36 cents for defense.

The curtailing of defense spending is viewed also as part of the battle against inflation. By restraining such spending, it is assumed that pressures on prices will be made throughout a large area of the economy.

There appears to be a weakness in the battle plan however, for the President is attempting to shift the course of the nation, to begin new efforts, while unfinished business remains.

The main unfinished business, of course, is Vietnam. The President declined to estimate the cost of the war during the fiscal year and thus suggests that his budget surplus is precariously balanced and uncertain.

An escalation of the war could eliminate the anticipated $1.3 billion surplus. But perhaps a further slowdown of military activities could provide him with a larger surplus.

Another bit of unfinished business is inflation.

If the dollar's value continues to erode, the President, like other Americans, is going to find his budgeted funds won't stretch as far as he had hoped.

The current seige of inflation apparently has made the President feel that good housing, a requirement of any program to improve the quality of life, must be postponed.

The reasoning for such an attitude is based on the assumption that the recession in the housing industry is the result mainly of high money costs and that the industry cannot recover until these costs come down.

In the Nixon view, however, money prices aren't going to fall until inroads are made against inflation: by balancing the federal budget and reducing the federal government's need for competing in the money markets.

In fact, the need to control inflation is denying the administration the energy it needs for any vigorous reordering of priorities. It is a shift of thinking but is only the beginning of the reordering.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been getting a series of injections in order to avoid an operation for hemorrhoids. How long does it take to obtain the full benefits?

Mr. G. W., Rhode Island
Dear Mr. W.: There seems to be some confusion in your letter about the reason for the injections. These are never used "in order to avoid" surgery.

Rather, injections of chemicals into the hemorrhoids are used in carefully selected cases not as a substitute for surgery but because the doctor believes he can obtain an excellent result in this way. How long it takes depends on the individual case. Hemorrhoids are clusters of small veins, and when they are not markedly enlarged or complicated, an injection of a chemical may seal off the pile or hemorrhoid. In many instances this method is very effective. Naturally, a patient will always tend to try to avoid an operation. This is understandable but is not always the realistic approach to a problem.

In many instances surgery may be the simplest, the fastest and the surest way to obtain permanent relief. Far too many people will also be tempted to use expensive ointments in an effort to delay the real medical treatment they deserve.

Help! This is my cry in the hope that I can find something for my husband's snoring. I seem to spend half the night listening to his buzz saw, while he blissfully is undisturbed by the racket. Are there any new devices if there is no medical way to control snoring?

Mrs. O. F. L., Colorado
Dear Mrs. L.: Welcome to the club which has members in all geographic areas and in all social circles.

Like your husband, the snorer soundly sleeps through the symphonic cacophony without any awareness of the sensitive eardrums of his captive audience. Not much has been done or understood about this common "social" condition. Unless there is obvious disease, such as adenoid in children or nasal polyps in adults or any other obvious medical condition, snoring is usually due to relaxation of the muscles of the jaw, the tongue, the palate, and the throat during sleep.

There are a number of simple devices that may accomplish their anti-snoring purpose. Most of these are chin straps with an elastic band which is worn over the head. In some instances this can be effective. After all medical causes are eliminated and after the simple custom or home-made devices fail, then comes the inevitable need for plugging the listener's ears to find his own peaceful slumber. Such plugs are available.

What is meant by the "mask of pregnancy"?
Mrs. E. N., Virginia
Dear Mrs. N.: Only occasionally does a brownish discoloration appear on the cheeks of pregnant women. This facial blemish is known as chloasma and usually disappears shortly after the child is born. It has been suggested that it is caused by a temporary hormone imbalance that may be associated with pregnancy.

Year Of Ecology

Is the steam going out of the anti-war protest movements? I laid aside, for future reference, some of the New Left promises made last November of "further nationwide protest activities in December — across the country on the twelfth through the fifteenth — and more large public events in the spring." The December "moratoria" either never materialized or if they did they caused no widespread journalistic ripples.

So what of the "large public events" promised for the spring? Since President Nixon is still pulling U.S. troops out of South Vietnam, can the New Left work up any real passion for new marches and demonstrations against "imperialism"? Somehow one doubts it.

Interestingly enough, the recent pronouncements of Professor Staughton Lynd, the leftist historian who quit Yale to go to Roosevelt University in Chicago for a short period, tend to confirm the doubt. FHA Appoints Inspectors For Housing

Lester M. Stone, Ohio State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, announced today the appointment of five construction inspectors to aid in carrying out the agency's rural housing programs in Ohio.

These men will counsel with applicants on the design of their homes, help negotiate with builders and supervise the construction contracts in the building and repair of rural homes in Ohio.

Fred W. Russell is to be headquartered at the FHA office in Lancaster. He will assist with the FHA program in the area of Circleville to alleviate heavy workloads due to the large amount of construction activity.

Rural housing loans made by the Farmers Home Administration are available to rural residents or urban residents who own rural land or are employed in rural areas, to build, improve, or repair rural homes and related facilities.

Loan funds also may be used to buy an existing house and lot or to buy a minimum adequate site on which to build the home. These loans are available to applicants who are unable to find financing for their needs elsewhere.

There are 26 FHA offices in Ohio. Interested applicants should apply at the county Farmers Home Administration office serving the area in which the property to be bought, built, or improved will be located.

The office serving Pickaway and Ross counties is in charge of Bruce G. Conner, County Supervisor, and is located at 1440 N. Court St.

"It's the idea of having three girls, and three or four guys, able to sit down in the evening and discussing, for example, premarital sex," Hammel says.

"It proves that smart people can help other smart people get smarter," says Dr. Robert W. Frank Jr., an English professor who is the project's faculty representative.

Fourteen men and 55 women—volunteers whose grades are all A's and B's—participate in the experiment in intellectual togetherness which began last fall. It's family-style togetherness that includes eating, discussing, studying, socializing and entertaining.

There are frequent guest speakers at the coed dorm, with topics ranging from drugs to civil rights to environment. And there are informal student-faculty mixers which Frank says are "head-filling and mind-stretching."

The dorm residents have organized a new class on the history of Western music, for which they get credit. And they plan two other new courses to be taught by teachers of their choice: one on the Czechoslovak political situation and the other on art.

"It is an example of students running on their own, and in the right direction, for learning," Frank says. "We're enthused that it works, and we're going to continue it."

FHA Appoints Inspectors For Housing

Lester M. Stone, Ohio State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, announced today the appointment of five construction inspectors to aid in carrying out the agency's rural housing programs in Ohio.

These men will counsel with applicants on the design of their homes, help negotiate with builders and supervise the construction contracts in the building and repair of rural homes in Ohio.

Fred W. Russell is to be headquartered at the FHA office in Lancaster. He will assist with the FHA program in the area of Circleville to alleviate heavy workloads due to the large amount of construction activity.

Rural housing loans made by the Farmers Home Administration are available to rural residents or urban residents who own rural land or are employed in rural areas, to build, improve, or repair rural homes and related facilities.

Loan funds also may be used to buy an existing house and lot or to buy a minimum adequate site on which to build the home. These loans are available to applicants who are unable to find financing for their needs elsewhere.

There are 26 FHA offices in Ohio. Interested applicants should apply at the county Farmers Home Administration office serving the area in which the property to be bought, built, or improved will be located.

The office serving Pickaway and Ross counties is in charge of Bruce G. Conner, County Supervisor, and is located at 1440 N. Court St.

Firemen Called When Appliances Overheat

Overheated appliances brought two calls in quick succession to the Circleville Fire Department Wednesday.

Firemen responded to a call at 5:45 p.m. at the residence of Mrs. Yvonne Knece, 888 S. Court St., when her clothes dryer overheated.

Seven minutes later they were called to a blaze in a house trailer owned by Thomas Reno, 459 E. Ohio St., where a fuel oil stove had overheated.

There was no loss to either appliance.

Nixon . . .

the 26th largest city in the nation, became the 12th largest Jan. 1 when its new form of government—nicknamed Uni-Gov—became official.

Overnight the city's population swelled from 525,000 to 800,000 and its land mass from 82 square miles to over 400.

Most importantly, Uni-Gov rescued the Indianapolis tax base, jeopardized as in most cities by the flight of business, industry and the white middle class to suburbia.

The experiment attracted the attention of the Nixon administration which is seeking to develop an urban policy that won't meet frustration in the welter of suburban jurisdictions ringing the nation's cities.

The mayors invited included Jack Malpeter of San Leandro, Calif., president of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, and Frank Curran of San Diego, Calif., National League of Cities president. Also invited were Donald Enoch, Wichita; Lawrence Kramer, Patterson, N.J.; George Seibels, Birmingham, Ala.; Chris Sonnaboldt, Grand Rapids; Miss Antonina Uccello, Hartford; and Walter Washington, Washington, D.C.; as well as Luger.

Peter Domenici of Albuquerque, N.M., also was invited but was ill and not able to attend.

They're getting themselves trapped before they know what the specifics are, one official said of the Senate critics.

He said incorporation of area defense as accorded by Safeguard's far-reaching Spartan interceptor has always been considered a necessary step in the system's development.

Spartan contrasts with the shorter-range Sprint missile which was approved last year for deployment around two U.S. Air Force Minuteman sites in Montana and North Dakota.

Pentagon Explains Defensive Missile System Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defensive missiles will not be positioned close to major American cities, under President Nixon's plans for expanding the Safeguard ABM system, Pentagon officials report.

The only exception to this, eventually, will be Washington, D.C., because strategists want to defend the seat of the command control over U.S. forces.

Defense officials made the point over missile deployment to counter growing congressional criticism that Nixon has gone back to the rationale used by the former Johnson administration to justify a defensive missile program.

Nixon disclosed a week ago the second phase of Safeguard plans would proceed this year to provide the United States with area defense against any potential Red Chinese threat over the next 10 years.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Wednesday accused Nixon of shifting arguments on Safeguard and opening a credibility gap.

Under the Johnson administration, the antiballistic missile system, then called Sentinel, would have been deployed around big population centers to protect them from a possible Red Chinese attack later in this decade.

The new Safeguard program begun by Nixon centered around U.S. offensive missile sites to protect them from a growing force of Soviet SS9 rockets.

Pentagon officials say the Soviet Union's missile menace toward U.S. retaliatory forces—Minuteman—remains the primary reason for building Safeguard.

But they contend the President was not inconsistent in his recent public statements reporting a decision to add "area defense" against an emerging Red Chinese threat.

In Pentagon jargon, "area defense" refers to the general protection which would be provided by long-range missile interceptors capable of stopping ICBM's hundreds of miles in space.

At this stage, the Pentagon has chosen not to challenge openly the renewed ABM opposition, mainly because officials say precise details on the expanded deployment have not been approved within the administration.

Vickroy Faces Auto Homicide

Two counts of vehicular homicide first degree will be filed against the Columbus man involved in Saturday's double fatality accident.

After conferring with Pickaway County Prosecutor Roy H. Huffer Jr., Sheriff Dwight Radcliff announced today charges of failure to yield the right of way, drunk driving and vehicular homicide will be filed against Robert W. Vickroy, 27, Columbus.

Vickroy was the driver of one of the cars in the accident on Route 22 and the junction of Route 56 resulting in the death of two Washington C. H. women early Saturday.

The women were on their way home after completing the afternoon shift at the Circleville General Electric plant when their auto was struck by Vickroy's car.

Vickroy was treated at Berger Hospital and is now in the Cincinnati Veterans Hospital for further treatment.

Cold weather brings various problems attested to by the theft of an oil space heater from a house under construction on the Harrisburg-Darbyville Road.

Ehrlich Construction Company notified the Pickaway County Sheriff the heater was taken early Wednesday morning. Nothing else was taken during the break-in. Value of the stove is $160.

Senate Panel Fights Laos Secrecy

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department censorship is fueling a backstage controversy with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee over the scope—and the secrecy—of U.S. military operations in Laos.

The 3½-month-old transcript of Senate hearings on U.S. commitments and activities in Laos is still in the custody of the censor.

"I've never seen anything like the hassle that we're having over that transcript," said Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the committee.

It is difficult, he said, to obtain, even in secret committee session, a full accounting of operations in Laos.

The transcript involved covers four days of closed-door hearings before a Senate subcommittee now looking into American commitments abroad.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., the chairman of the panel, has indicated he will not press the censorship dispute at this point.

He is understood to be concerned lest an open dispute now make more difficult the remaining phases of his commitments inquiry. His subcommittee is due to look into the situation in Korea late this month, again, in executive session.

A censored version of the Laos transcript was sent back by the State Department, but top committee members termed it unacceptable.

Fulbright said it was so heavily censored as to be meaningless.

He said State Department officials have told the committee the heavy censorship is necessary because portions of the transcript involve information "they promised the other side not to publish."

The Senate itself held a secret debate about Laos Dec. 15. The record was published later, but it was censored at both the Pentagon and the State Department, and no new information was put on the record.

Figures on the number of U.S. military personnel in Laos, the rate of American air missions over northern Laos, and on U.S. casualties in those operations all were deleted from the public record.

After that closed session, the Senate approved an amendment to bar the introduction of U.S. ground combat troops into either Laos or Thailand.

In an offshoot of the censorship dispute, Fulbright Monday issued a staff report on the situation in South Vietnam without seeking State Department clearance.

"I wasn't asked to approve or disapprove of it before they put it out," Aiken said. "The State Department didn't even see the report."

"We can't let them censor everything," Fulbright said.

A FRIENDLY PLACE TO SAVE

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Donations Are Not 'Obligations'

DEAR ABBY: As I sit here writing "thank you" notes to acknowledge a stack of printed cards advising me that a donation to the "Rink-a-dink Charitable organization" has been made in memory of a loved one, I feel like a hypocrite. It is so easy to discharge an obligation to one bereaved by making a contribution to a charity you would have contributed to anyway. You don't even have to write a card. The charity will send a printed one. And there's another plus. It's tax deductible!

The use of money to discharge all obligations is certainly a sign of an affluent society.

How infinitely more thoughtful is the hand written letter, telephone call, or personal visit. This would express true friendship during a very sad and lonely period.

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: Sending a condolence message, or making a donation in the name of a loved one is NOT an "obligation." Many simply ignore the death of a friend or acquaintance.

I am not familiar with any "rink-a-dink charitable organizations." If a friend of mine dies of cancer, I feel that an appropriate expression of my sympathy would be a contribution to the Cancer society. And the same goes for the Heart association. And if I knew that the deceased had a special interest in Catholic Charities, or the N. A. A. C. P., or the Mormon Missionary society, I would make a contribution in the name of the deceased.

It is not always possible to make a personal condolence call on the family. I speak from both sides of the fence, and I hope that you will reconsider your attitude concerning donations to charities in memory of loved ones. I repeat, the donor could have ignored the death.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would be writing to you, but this problem is getting me down so bad I don't know where to turn. I turn to God on Sundays, but there are six other days when I need help.

My husband was born tired, but he always has the strength to be a 24-hour-a-day lover man.

Abby, I've always been a virtuous woman, and I've never shirked my duties as a wife, but I worked so hard at picking cotton some days that when nighttime came, I would like to have dropped in my tracks, but there was no rest for me with a man who has just set and rested up all day.

Now the kids are gone and I am all worn out. But my man is still going strong. Worse yet, he will not take a bath but once a month. His teeth are rotten, and his breath could kill you dead, but he presents himself for romance like he was a teen-ager.

Don't tell me to take him to a doctor. You don't take bulls anywhere. In closing, I remain,

VERY TRULY YOURS,

DEAR TIRED: Next Sunday, when you turn to God, pray for strength to see you thru the rest of the week.

DEAR ABBY: I think the other peoples of the world can take a lesson from the Chinese. It is their custom to settle up their debts before New Year's Day. What do you say?

ALL AMERICAN
DEAR ALL: It's easy for the Chinese. They don't have Christmas the week before.

DEAR ABBY: This advice is to mothers who never know what to say to a friend whose daughter is, or was away as an unwed mother.

I never knew the best approach until I had to experience the heartache of taking my daughter away and bringing her home to dead-silent friends.

If you really are a friend who cares, write a note, telephone or visit and simply say, "I know your heartache, and I am sorry. If ever you need me, call and unload. I'll be there, and I will listen with love."

U.S. Continues Viet Defoliation

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

NORTH OF WAR ZONE D, Vietnam (AP) — Four big cargo planes in tight formation hurtle toward a ridge line, skimming the treetops. Over the hill with feet to spare, then down into the valley, their planes wash their bellies in fog.

"Spray on," the lead plane reports. "Spray on," echo the followers in quick succession.

For almost four minutes destructive gray mist spurts from rows of jets under the wings and behind the tails of the four planes, mingling with the fog over the rolling jungle.

In six weeks, a broad brown stripe will mark the path the planes flew. The Ranch Hands will have left their brand.

They are men of the U.S. Air Force 12th Special Operations Squadron who fly specially equipped C123 defoliation planes. For eight years, they have been grazing the treetops of Vietnam to destroy enemy crops and expose any infiltration routes and base camps hidden under the jungle canopies.

Their jet-assisted propeller planes weren't designed for such low-level missions or for tight formations.

"At 150 feet," says Maj. Richard E. Thorndike, the squadron's operation officer, "we make tempting targets."

Five defoliation planes have been shot down, three of them in 1967 before the C123s were equipped with jet pods to give them more maneuverability and enable damaged planes to get back to base.

But the most serious threats to continuation of the defoliation flights have come from the United States, where scientists and conservationists express fears about the long-term effects of defoliation.

Some contend that destruction of thousands of square miles of jungled woodlands will upset the ecological balance in Vietnam and threaten the nation's wildlife and natural resources. Others question whether trying to starve the enemy out by destroying his crops is humane.

Formula 24.5-T—one of the chemicals used extensively in remote jungle areas of Vietnam—has been banned from use near populated areas in the United States because of indications that strong doses may cause birth defects.

Officers in the field insist that the defoliation raids save American lives by denying the enemy cover from which to spring ambushes and are therefore worth continuing.

Chemical operations officers add that surrender rates have increased in areas where crops have been destroyed because "the people are coming out hungry."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Donations Are Not 'Obligations'

DEAR ABBY: As I sit here writing "thank you" notes to acknowledge a stack of printed cards advising me that a donation to the "Rink-a-dink Charitable organization" has been made in memory of a loved one, I feel like a hypocrite.

It is so easy to discharge an obligation to one bereaved by making a contribution to a charity you would have contributed to anyway. You don't even have to write a card. The charity will send a printed one. And there's another plus. It's tax deductible!

The use of money to discharge all obligations is certainly a sign of an affluent society.

How infinitely more thoughtful is the hand written letter, telephone call, or personal visit. This would express true friendship during a very sad and lonely period.

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: Sending a condolence message, or making a donation in the name of a loved one is NOT an "obligation." Many simply ignore the death of a friend or acquaintance.

I am not familiar with any "rink-a-dink charitable organizations." If a friend of mine dies of cancer, I feel that an appropriate expression of my sympathy would be a contribution to the Cancer society. And the same goes for the Heart association. And if I knew that the deceased had a special interest in Catholic Charities, or the N. A. A. C. P., or the Mormon Missionary society, I would make a contribution in the name of the deceased.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Pickaway County Public Library has a section devoted to books for children. Volumes recently added to the Children's Library are reviewed here.

"Frances Face-Maker" by William Cole and Tom Ungerer. "Frances Face-Maker" is a tricky participation book. To get Frances to go to bed, her daddy plays a game in which she is to make different kinds of faces. All this is in rhyme. Parents may want to try this gimmick at bedtime, too.

"Brave Johnny O'Hara" by Eleanor B. Heady, pictures by Steve Kellogg. It's hard to decide which is the best part of this delightful children's book. Surely adults will love reading it to their children. "Brave Johnny O'Hara" lives way down there in the land of koala bear, and so his poem is about billabongs and dingos and kookaburras. Perfectly charming are the illustrations, many of which would be suitable for framing. Best of all is the final endpaper, which shows a slightly tipsy Bunyip (mythical dragon to you Yanks) leering at the reader as he pops up from a billabong. Picture Book.

"Happy Harry and the Scarecrow" by Anne Geelhaar and Ingeborg Meyer-Ruf. Adapted by Marion Koenig. Happy Harry was a bold and friendly starling. He and Harriet built their nest in the kind scarecrow's apron. They raised a family of six. Picture book.

"William C. Handy: Father of the Blues" by Elizabeth Rider Montgomery. William C. Handy was born just twelve years after Appomattox. His father was a minister, and considered any music outside the church a deadly sin. Young William had difficulty breaking with his father's wishes. He was cheated out of the money for "Memphis Blues," but published "St. Louis Blues" himself and found financial security after that. W. C. Handy was listed in "Who's Who in America" and "Who's Who in Music." He became one of the first of his race to achieve fame in the arts.

"Temple on a Hill: the Building of the Parthenon" by Ann Rockwell. For children just becoming aware of Greek history, this book will present a good background. Especially well written is the section on the Parthenon. Greek love of the beauty of mathematics is the factor which brought the Parthenon to perfection. Miss Rockwell discusses the selection of the marble as well as the formulae which created the most splendid temple of Athens. For older boys and girls.

"The Geese are Back" by Grete Mannheim. "The Geese are Back" is a black and white photographic story of nesting geese. They choose a nursery near some swans, and there are excellent pictures of both birds. Especially good are photographs of a swan and a goose in combat. Grades 4-6.

IN THE MIDDLE—Raymond G. Dunne, superintendent of schools in Volusia County, Fla., is really in the middle as he ponders his situation in his Deland office. Republican Gov. Claude Kirk ordered him not to comply with the federal order to desegregate schools on pain of suspension. On the other hand, non-compliance could be even greater pain.

Deep South Solons Fight Major Bill On Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deep South senators zeroed in on a major education bill today, hoping to attach amendments that would blunt the drive for total southern school desegregation.

ed by Mississippi Democrat John Stennis, they prepared riders to the $35 billion education measure to legalize the freedom of choice plans once prevalent in the South, but now in general disfavor with the federal courts.

Stennis said one of his amendments would put into effect for the entire nation a freedom of choice plan he said is now state law in New York.

"If public school students in New York should not be bussed to overcome the vestiges of a dual school system, the public school students of the South should not be bussed for that purpose, either," he declared.

GE Workers Approve Pact; Strike Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some workers have voted nearly 3-1 to accept a new contract and end a 101-day-old strike.

Some of the workers prepared to return to work today while others were expected to wait as late as Monday.

Voting had not been reported from the remaining 30,000 strikers.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, largest of the 13 unions with 78,000 members in the nationwide strike, said local operations would dictate when its members returned.

The independent United Electrical Workers—which represents about 16,000 workers—approved the contract. So did the American Flint Glass Workers for its small unit in GE's Logan, Ohio plant, and an 80-member unit of Firemen and Oilers in Louisville, Ky.

AFL-CIO Sheet Metal Workers voted approval of the contract with GE's Hotpoint division in Chicago.

The AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists recommended that its 14,000 members in 34 plants turn down the settlement.

The IUE acceptance was expected to end the bulk of the strike. A spokesman said, however, that if members of other unions continued striking in plants where they work "our people would respect the picket lines."

The contract provides an estimated 61 to 82 cents an hour in pay raises over 40 months for most of the workers, depending on whether rising living costs triggered the full amount of cost-of-living pay in the agreement. Some workers, now receiving up to 25 cents an hour more in special skills pay, would receive more.

The average hourly pay for GE domestic employees had been $3.25.

Stennis said one of his amendments would put into effect for the entire nation a freedom of choice plan he said is now state law in New York.

"If public school students in New York should not be bussed to overcome the vestiges of a dual school system, the public school students of the South should not be bussed for that purpose, either," he declared.

Mandatory Tip Ruled Taxable By High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A private club in Youngstown must pay sales tax on a mandatory 15 per cent tip added to meal checks, the Ohio Supreme Court ruled Wednesday.

The court said the fact the tip would eventually be passed on to waiters did not make the Youngstown club's labor costs any different than labor costs included in the price of the food and drinks.

The decision affirmed an earlier Board of Tax Appeals ruling.

In another case, the court denied Freedom for Herbert E. Rose, an inmate at the London Correctional Institution, who challenged the constitutional validity to arrest and confine parolees without an investigation or hearings that would provide for cross-examination.

The court ruled that a man on parole has only privileges and not the same constitutional rights afforded him prior to conviction.

The court refused to hear a $16.40 lawsuit filed by the Ohio Power Co. against two men who knocked down one of its poles.

Clarence E. Warren of Neffs, Ohio, and Frank R. Zemelka of Rt. 3, Bellaire, lost a Belmont County Common Pleas Court decision to the power company and paid the $328.32 in damages set by the trial judge. But the company had asked $344.72 and has been appealing the case since.

An appeal by a Painesville news stand operator convicted on five counts of selling pornography also was denied a hearing by the high court.

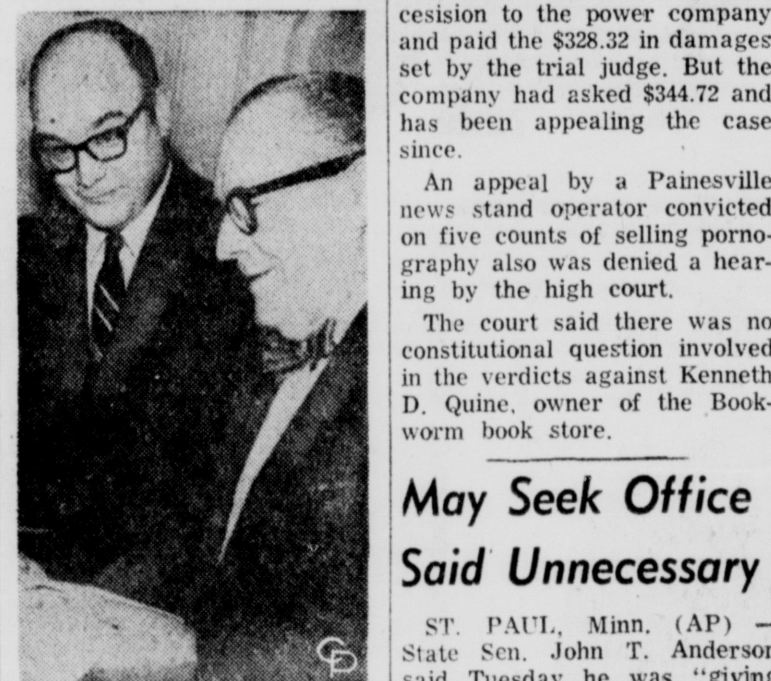

The court said there was no constitutional question involved in the verdicts against Kenneth D. Quine, owner of the Bookworm book store.

But the sharp controversy is expected to delay final passage of the bill, possibly for as much as two weeks.

Major provisions of the $33 billion measure call for a four-year extension of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act and the Impacted Areas program of aid to schools crowded because of nearby federal installations.

The bill goes far beyond the recommendations of President Nixon and offers him a direct challenge on education spending issues.

However, sponsors said as debate opened Wednesday that, with strong bipartisan support, it was certain to be passed with little change.

The assault occurred in the same general area where another UC coed, Carol Sanders, 18, Akron, was shot fatally last Thursday night.

Charged with armed robbery, assault with intent to rape and abduction was Ronald C. Burton of Cincinnati, police reported.

Burton, a timekeeper, was being held in the Hamilton County Jail.

The charges were filed as a result of an attack on one coed Jan. 19 and an attack on another last Thursday, the same night Miss Sanders was slain.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Desi Arnaz was the star of an NBC "Music Hall" hour Wednesday night, and old timers in the audience had 60 minutes of nostalgia for the good old days of Ricky and Lucy, Ethel and Fred.

In form, it was a variety hour, but the jokes relied on the long memories of the viewers for laughs as well as an affectionate relationship of almost 20 years with the Arnaz family.

The atmosphere was improved by the appearance of Vivian Vance, armed with the kind of dry, disillusioned wisecracks that made her the perfect foil during those "I Love Lucy" years. The atmosphere was so familiar, in fact, that this viewer half expected that Lucy herself might appear.

Desi, slimmed down since his occasional appearances on his

"Mothers-In-Law" series, set the tone by observing how nice it was to be seen outside of a room.

The show was set up primarily to showcase the talents of the two Arnaz kids, Desi Jr. and Lucie. Desi Sr. played the fall guy, and came off very attractively indeed.

ABC, giving its "Room 222" a night off, presented a half-hour documentary which told, once again, of the old frontier West as it really was, not as glamorized by 1,001 nights of movies and television.

The most impressive portions of the brief treatment were reminiscences of two men and a woman who worked and lived in the wide open spaces in the good old days. They talked about the rough life in voices cracked with years but full of zest and vitality. These interviews were surrounded by some rather arty photography and stilted re-enactments, most of which looked like attempts by amateurs to make cigarette commercials.

The uninspired mood of this minidocumentary emphasizes the difficulty networks find in developing suitable material to fill half-hour schedule holes. When ABC starts a series of half-hour news specials on March 23 at 10:30 EST, following its two-hour movie period, it hopes to remedy this shortage.

The series will be called "Now," and will be produced by the network news department. The first three will concentrate in timely fashion on the workings of the Internal Revenue Service and pass along some money-saving tax suggestions.

Taft Supports Nixon's Budget As Deflationary

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—President Nixon's $200 billion budget will reverse the inflationary psychology "that has gripped the nation over the past several years," Rep. Robert Taft Jr. predicted Wednesday.

Taft, candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination, said the Nixon administration has set needed priorities and "meant business" in attacking the inflation cycle.

He told newsmen he believed Nixon's formula for ending the Vietnam war is "one that can and will be carried out."

Taft was responding to remarks Tuesday by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., in which he called the President's position on the war "a cruel hoax."

Woman Testifies Against Lifting Female Restrictions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 250 spectators cheered and applauded as opponents of bills to repeal Ohio's work restrictions against women in industry testified Wednesday before a legislative committee.

"I don't think any woman wants to be equal to a man," Ruby Johns of Canton told the Ohio House Commerce and Labor Committee.

Mrs. Johns was one of several witnesses appearing before the committee, but she obviously was the star performer as far as the audience was concerned. Cheering by spectators prompted Chairman Howard A. Knight to twice threaten to have the room cleared.

Mrs. Johns said she didn't want equality when it came to sharing rest rooms with men, working overtime and lifting heavy objects.

"A woman that stands up here and says she doesn't mind using the same rest room as men doesn't have the right to be a woman," she said.

Rep. Robert A. Manning, R-94 Akron, author of the four bills under consideration and a member of the committee, said separate rest room facilities were called for by building standard provisions of Ohio law.

Women in favor of the repeal appeared before the committee last week. Both opponents and proponents will be on hand for a third hearing next week.

The bill, which has already been changed by one subcommittee, would prohibit strikes

NEW YORK (AP) — Desi Arnaz was the star of an NBC "Music Hall" hour Wednesday night, and old timers in the audience had 60 minutes of nostalgia for the good old days of Ricky and Lucy, Ethel and Fred.

In form, it was a variety hour, but the jokes relied on the long memories of the viewers for laughs as well as an affectionate relationship of almost 20 years with the Arnaz family.

The atmosphere was improved by the appearance of Vivian Vance, armed with the kind of dry, dislustrous wisecracks that made her the perfect foil during those "I Love Lucy" years. The atmosphere was so familiar, in fact, that this viewer half expected that Lucy herself might appear.

Desi, slimmed down since his occasional appearances on his

"Mothers-In-Law" series, set the tone by observing how nice it was to be seen outside of a rerun.

The show was set up primarily to showcase the talents of the two Arnaz kids, Desi Jr. and Lucie. Desi Sr. played the fall guy, and came off very attractively indeed.

ABC, giving its "Room 222" a night off, presented a half-hour documentary which told, once again, of the old frontier West as it really was, not as glamorized by 1,001 nights of movies and television.

The most impressive portions of the brief treatment were reminiscences of two men and a woman who worked and lived in the wide open spaces in the good old days. They talked about the rough life in voices cracked with years but full of zest and vitality. These interviews were surrounded by some rather arty photography and stilted re-enactments, most of which looked like attempts by amateurs to make cigarette commercials.

The uninspired mood of this minidocumentary emphasizes the difficulty networks find in developing suitable material to fill half-hour schedule holes. When ABC starts a series of half-hour news specials on March 23 at 10:30 EST, following its two-hour movie period, it hopes to remedy this shortage.

The series will be called "Now," and will be produced by the network news department. The first three will concentrate in timely fashion on the workings of the Internal Revenue Service and pass along some money-saving tax suggestions.

Taft Supports Nixon's Budget As Deflationary

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—President Nixon's $200 billion budget will reverse the inflationary psychology "that has gripped the nation over the past several years," Rep. Robert Taft Jr. predicted Wednesday.

Taft, candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination, said the Nixon administration has set needed priorities and "meant business" in attacking the inflation cycle.

He told newsmen he believed Nixon's formula for ending the Vietnam war is "one that can and will be carried out."

Taft was responding to remarks Tuesday by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., in which he called the President's position on the war "a cruel hoax."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Dept. of Agri. cash grain prices: No 2 red wheat mostly unchanged 1.33-1.38, mostly 1.34-1.37; No 2 yellow corn unchanged to 1 higher 1.11-1.18, mostly 1.14; No 2 oats mostly unchanged 58-70, mostly 60-65; soybeans unchanged to 1 higher 2.35-2.44, mostly 2.38-2.40.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 250 spectators cheered and applauded as opponents of bills to repeal Ohio's work restrictions against women in industry testified Wednesday before a legislative committee.

"I don't think any woman wants to be equal to a man," Ruby Johns of Canton told the Ohio House Commerce and Labor Committee.

Mrs. Johns was one of several witnesses appearing before the committee, but she obviously was the star performer as far as the audience was concerned. Cheering by spectators prompted Chairman Howard A. Knight to twice threaten to have the room cleared.

Mrs. Johns said she didn't want equality when it came to sharing rest rooms with men, working overtime and lifting heavy objects.

"A woman that stands up here and says she doesn't mind using the same rest room as men doesn't have the right to be a woman," she said.

Rep. Robert A. Manning, R-94 Akron, author of the four bills under consideration and a member of the committee, said separate rest room facilities were called for by building standard provisions of Ohio law.

Funds Sought For UC Building

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati Wednesday sought an additional $6.5 million in federal funds for a $50 million Medical Sciences building after agreeing to nearly doubling the freshman enrollment in the College of Medicine in 1970.

The 1970 freshman class will be increased from 106 to 192, the board of directors announced Tuesday. The board was informed by the National Institute of Health that the increased enrollment would likely change the ratio of matching funds to two-to-one instead of 54 per cent federal to 46 per cent local.

The ratio would mean $32.5 million or more from the federal government instead of the expected $28. The directors also said that if the State of Ohio contributed $17 million, the remaining $1.5 million needed for the center could be raised from private sources here.

Mrs. Johns questioned who inserted "sex" into the law. "I wonder if some stupid woman did that?" she asked.

Women in favor of the repeal appeared before the committee last week. Both opponents and proponents will be on hand for a third hearing next week.

In other action, the committee sent to a three-man subcommittee a bill that would pave the way for collective bargaining for public employees.

The bill, which has already been changed by one subcommittee, would prohibit strikes by public employees and provide penalties for both workers and their bargaining organization.

Workers who go out on strike could be fined $25 to $100 a day for each day of violation and the organization could be fined 3 per cent of its total annual Spokesmen for the Ohio Education Association, the Ohio Nurses Association and the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association all said they opposed the bill as it is now written.

Members of the subcommittee charged with redrafting it are Reps. John A. Galbraith, R-76 Maumee, the prime sponsor, and Tony P. Hall, D-57 Dayton, and Allen J. Bartunek, R - 54 Cleveland Heights.

PPG Sales, Earnings Reach Record Highs In 1969

PITTSBURGH — Sales of PPG Industries in 1969 reached a record high for the eighth consecutive year, while earnings increased nearly 12 per cent over 1968, it was announced by board chairman Robinson F. Barker.

Net sales were $1,146,650,000, an increase of approximately 10 per cent over 1968 sales of $1,044,044,000 while earnings were $54,007,000, or $2.64 per share, compared with $48,298,000, or $2.37 a share, in 1968.

Sales and earnings for the fourth quarter, Barker reported, were greater than those in the same 1968 period, marking the 10th consecutive quarter in which both sales and earnings have exceeded those of the respective year-earlier periods.

Sales in the final three months of 1969 were $291,743,000, highest of any fourth quarter in history, compared with $273,628,000 in 1968, while earnings were $15,062,000, or 64 cents a share, compared with $12,724,000, or 62 cents a share, for the same period a year earlier.

Barker said that the growth record was particularly significant in light of some decline in activity in a number of major markets.

Despite governmental anti-inflationary measures PPG's commercial construction market remained strong through the year, and at year-end the Glass Division had the largest order backlog in its history for commercial glass and glazing, he said.

The PPG chairman noted that although residential construction has declined, a substantial proportion of the company's sales to this market, notably paint, glass and fiber glass for draperies, is sold for home maintenance and remodeling, and these sales were strong.

The broad acceptance by automobile manufacturers of bias belted tires spurred sales of fiber glass tire cord, he reported, while wide use of upgraded glass products, such as the antenna windshield, and increased amounts of glass per car, helped offset the effects of the production slowdown in this industry.

Chemical pricing although still depressed, showed a continuation of a strengthening trend that began in late 1968, the PPG executive said, and the present short supply of a number of basic chemicals should help to support price levels.

PPG's capital expenditures in the past seven years have topped $700 million and investments during 1970 will be more than $100 million, he said. One new plant started up, two others were expanded and work began on several other new or expanded facilities during 1969.

"Our performance in 1970 undoubtedly will be affected by government efforts to control inflation," Barker said, "and we cannot pinpoint the length of the restraint period. Following that, however, the pent-up demand should enable our major markets to resume their growth."

Nixon Rejects Mideast Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has written Soviet Premier Alexsei Kosygin rejecting Russian charges that the United States has fueled the increased Middle East fighting.

In a letter dispatched Wednesday to Moscow, Nixon said the United States is urging both Israel and the Arab states to follow a United Nations cease-fire resolution and end the battles.

The President also called anew for discussion with the Soviet Union on a Middle East arms limitation, and asked for what U.S. officials described as a constructive response from Russia to American proposals made last October and December for an Israeli-Arab settlement.

Nixon's letter was a reply to a personal message from the Soviet premier last Saturday reportedly blaming the United States and Israel entirely for the present mounting violence in the years-long Middle East conflict.

State Department officials said Kosygin suggested in his message the Soviet Union intends to supply the Arab states with additional arms if Israel does not halt its military action.

Nixon's letter, like Kosygin's, was not made public but a summary provided by State Department officials rejected the allegation of one-sided responsibility and said in effect action to stop the fighting must be taken by both sides.

Administration sources described the Nixon reply as restrained, nonpolemical, firm and positive.

Nixon concluded his letter with a restatement of the view he expressed Jan. 25 in a message to a meeting of American Jewish leaders that the United States intends to provide support for the security of friendly countries in the area.

The U.S. government is presently considering a reported request from Israel for about 100 fighter planes on favorable credit terms.

Nixon told a news conference last Friday he will make a decision in the light of what he considers to be Israel's needs for more armament within 30 days.

Officials said the U.S. efforts to bring about restoration of a United Nations cease-fire began in recent weeks and are continuing. So far, these efforts have had no known effect on the pattern of conflict developing for many months.

Added Traffic Signals Slated In Bloomfield

Additional traffic lights will be installed on State Route 23 in South Bloomfield to provide a signal for each lane of traffic in accordance with an ordinance passed by South Bloomfield Council members.

Action was taken following an Ohio State Highway Department traffic survey in the village.

In other business at the recent regular session of council, the clerk reported the increased gas rates to be effective Feb. 11 according to the Columbia Gas Co. computation sheets.

A motion made by Councilman Pettibone to purchase cones, barricades and signs for one-way traffic was approved.

Also approved was the motion to have Street Commissioner Everett Costlow cut down the dead tree in front of Earl Roese's property.

The street commissioner was also directed to report on surface water in the Crites-Cook Subdivision and on the east side of State Route 23 at the next council meeting. A public meeting will then be held concerning the situation.

Mayor Lester George guided the council session with members Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. LaDonna Haslep, Russell Toole, Sheldon Roof and Dale Pettibone present.

Milder Air Moves In

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milder weather fanned through most of the nation's interior today but bitter cold lingered in the northeast and again whitened parts of the Deep South with frost.

Frigid temperatures trailed westward out of New England into the northern Plains.

Although overnight readings were somewhat warmer than a day earlier in the Southeast, the mercury once more fell into the 20s across Georgia. Florida also remained chilly, with lows in the 40s extending south.

Light snow fell in portions of the Great Lakes region. Occasional light rain and snow damped scattered areas through the southern Midwest.

Generally fair weather dominated the Far West.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 15 below zero at International Falls, Minn., to 60 at Brownsville, Tex.

Nixon Rejects Mideast Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has written Soviet Premier Alexsei Kosygin rejecting Russian charges that the United States has fueled the increased Middle East fighting.

In a letter dispatched Wednesday to Moscow, Nixon said the United States is urging both Israel and the Arab states to follow a United Nations cease-fire resolution and end the battles.

The President also called anew for discussion with the Soviet Union on a Middle East arms limitation, and asked for what U.S. officials described as a constructive response from Russia to American proposals made last October and December for an Israeli-Arab settlement.

Nixon's letter was a reply to a personal message from the Soviet premier last Saturday reportedly blaming the United States and Israel entirely for the present mounting violence in the years-long Middle East conflict.

State Department officials said Kosygin suggested in his message the Soviet Union intends to supply the Arab states with additional arms if Israel does not halt its military action.

Nixon's letter, like Kosygin's, was not made public but a summary provided by State Department officials rejected the allegation of one-sided responsibility and said in effect action to stop the fighting must be taken by both sides.

Administration sources described the Nixon reply as restrained, nonpolemical, firm and positive.

Nixon concluded his letter with a restatement of the view, he expressed Jan. 25 in a message to a meeting of American Jewish leaders that the United States intends to provide support for the security of friendly countries in the area.

The U.S. government is presently considering a reported request from Israel for about 100 fighter planes on favorable credit terms.

Nixon told a news conference last Friday he will make a decision in the light of what he considers to be Israel's needs for more armament within 30 days.

Officials said the U.S. efforts to bring about restoration of a United Nations cease-fire began in recent weeks and are continuing. So far, these efforts have had no known effect on the pattern of conflict developing for many months.

Added Traffic Signals Slated In Bloomfield

Additional traffic lights will be installed on State Route 23 in South Bloomfield to provide a signal for each lane of traffic in accordance with an ordinance passed by South Bloomfield Council members.

Action was taken following an Ohio State Highway Department traffic survey in the village.

In other business at the recent regular session of council, the clerk reported the increased gas rates to be effective Feb. 11 according to the Columbia Gas Co. computation sheets.

A motion made by Councilman Pettibone to purchase cones, barricades and signs for one-way traffic was approved. Also approved was the motion to have Street Commissioner Everett Costlow cut down the dead tree in front of Earl Roese's property.

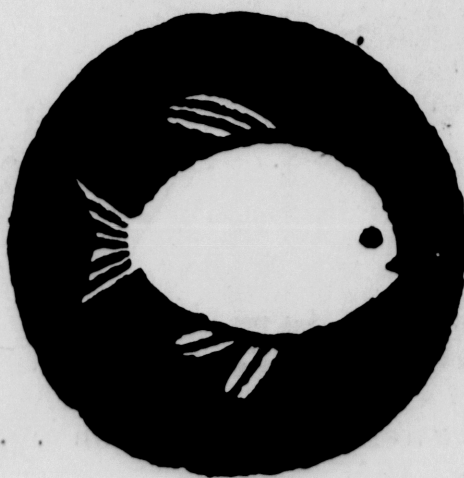

The street commissioner was also directed to report on surface water in the Crites-Cook Subdivision and on the east side of State Route 23 at the next council meeting. A public meeting will then be held concerning the situation.

Mayor Lester George guided the council session with members Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. LaDonna Haslep, Russell Toole, Sheldon Roof and Dale Pettibone present.

Milder Air Moves In

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milder weather fanned through most of the nation's interior today but bitter cold lingered in the northeast and again whittened parts of the Deep South with frost.

Frigid temperatures trailed westward out of New England into the northern Plains.

Although overnight readings were somewhat warmer than a day earlier in the Southeast, the mercury once more fell into the 20s across Georgia. Florida also remained chilly, with lows in the 40s extending south.

Light snow fell in portions of the Great Lakes region. Occasional light rain and snow damped scattered areas through the southern Midwest.

Generally fair weather dominated the Far West.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 15 below zero at International Falls, Minn., to 60 at Brownsville, Tex.

Bob Hope Golf Tourney Unique, Often Confusing

By BOB GREEN
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The Bob Hope Classic, with its unique, often confusing format calls for a slightly different approach to golf, Arnold Palmer said.

"Well," Palmer said with a broad grin, "it requires a more liberal approach. If you can't concentrate, you sure shouldn't be playing in this tournament."

Palmer had a 68, four under par and one stroke off the lead Wednesday in the opening round of the only 90-hole event on the pro tour.

Veteran Bob Rosburg, Charles Coody, Labron Harris, Bruce Devlin and Larry Ziegler all had 67s to lead the closely bunched field.

Bobby Greenwood and Rod Funseth matched Palmer's 68. U.S. Open champion Orville Moody and Masters title-holder George Archer were among the dozen at 69. Lee Trevino and Pete Brown, the long-shot winner of last week's Andy Williams-San Diego Open, were in the big bunch at 70.

Defending champion Billy Casper had a 71. Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and British Open champ Tony Jacklin are not competing.

The 136 pros play one round on each of four courses—with a different team of three amateurs each day—for the first four days. Playing in foursomes, with three amateurs, it took almost five hours to play a round the first day.

"If you're playing good, it doesn't bother you at all," the free wheeling Ziegler said. "If you're playing bad, well . . ."

"It may require more concentration, Coody said.

"A lot depends on the amateurs you have to be with," said Devlin.

Palmer agreed.

"Usually the amateurs are pretty good," he said. "But you can get situations. Say you've got an important putt. The amateur is on in eight and is putting for a nine and wants to practice his put. Well, it can get pretty distracting."

The 40-year-old master had six birdies, missed five other birdie putts of 10 feet or less and had two bogeys, one on the last hole that would have given him a share of the lead. He missed the green on that one, then missed a five-foot putt.

He played at Indian Wells, as did the 43-year-old Rosburg, a former PGA champ who had just returned to the tour on a full-time basis. Rosburg spiced his round with an eagle three, pitching in from 80 feet on the par five eighth.

Devlin, a one-time master plumber from Australia, Ziegler and Harris, a former amateur champ, all played La Quinta, generally considered the toughest of the four courses, and all had strings of three consecutive birdies.

With Charlie Jackson pacing the squad and Ty Ankrom, Randy Halley, Tom Bowers and Mark Lutz making up the nucleus, Coach John Lawhorn has been going to the bench in an attempt to add punch to the Red and Black. John Hunt and Dick Walters were injected into the lineup last week with good results.

Saturday night the Tigers will be at Westfall for a battle with the Mustangs. This is another neighborhood rivalry and anything can happen.

In the opening game of the year the Red and Black downed the Mustangs on the Junior High floor, 57-53 and you can bet it is still in the herd's craw.

WESTFALL will be going into the game after a big Friday night tussle with Teays Valley and whatever develops on Friday may have a serious effect on Saturday night's encounter.

You can bet that Mr. Greg Bigam and company would like nothing better than a double victory this weekend.

It will be interesting to see what develops and there will be a packed house at the Mustang corral Saturday night to watch it.

And the key star and 1968-69 coach of a team that dominated the National Basketball Association in the decade just past, added a bit of typical Russell spice to the award.

"There were only two dominating teams during that decade, the Green Bay Packers and the Celtics," he said. For the spice, he added:

"I was offended when one television network named the New York Mets as the team of the decade."

"They could' just as well named the New York Jets. They were an expansion team, too, and they didn't win anything until the last year of the decade."

Russell's credentials are considerable.

The list started at McLymonds High School in Oakland, Calif., and began growing at the University of San Francisco where Russell, an All-American, helped the Dons win 60 straight games, still the all-time collegiate record.

He was also a pivotal player on the undefeated United States basketball team which won the gold medal at the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia.

The 6-foot-10 center joined the Celtics in 1957 as their No. 1 pick—a selection which would have gone to St. Louis were it not for the fact that the Hawks, fearing he might sign instead with the Harlem Globetrotters, traded their rights to Russell in exchange for Cliff Hagan and Ed Macauley.

"Big Six," a tag he acquired because of his uniform number, promptly led Boston to the NBA championship, the first of 11 during his 13-year pro career which included an unprecedented eight straight titles.

OU Gets Firmer Grip On MAC Leadership

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio University's classy Bobcats took a tighter grip on the Mid-American Conference lead by downing Toledo 80-67, and basketball Coach Jim Snyder is beginning to see some light at the end of the title trail.

"It could still go down to the end," Snyder said after the game Wednesday night, "but we're hoping these guys (Toledo) can carry it to Bowling Green."

Toledo and the second-place Falcons, traditional rivals, met at Bowling Green Feb. 21.

The win gave Ohio University a 6-1 record in the MAC and a full game lead over Bowling Green (4-1).

"I told the kids a loss wasn't going to kill us but a win sure could put you in better position," Snyder said, noting the Bobcats have only one league game left on the road. They go to Miami a week from Saturday.

Ohio U. grabbed an early lead over the Rockets and never was in serious trouble. Greg McDivitt led the Bobcats with 25 points, while John Canine, who thrills crowds with his wild shot put-like jumper, added 23.

"Canine takes shots we say nobody should be taking — except him," Snyder said.

Third-place Miami beat Marshall 71-67 in a non-loop contest Wednesday night. The Redskins' Mike Wren took scoring honors with 25 points.

Youngstown State kept its perfect record intact and handed Coach Dom Rosselli the 49th victory of his career by whipping Gannon 94-64.

By getting the 400th, Rosselli reached a plateau attained by only seven other collegiate basketball coaches still active. During his 26 years as the Youngstown coach, his teams have lost 251 games.

Bill Russell Cage Player Of The Decade

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — William F. Russell, the biggest Bill of the Boston Celtics, was duly appreciative—but not too amazed — that he had been named Basketball Player of the Decade in a special 1960-69 poll by The Associated Press.

And the key star and 1968-69 coach of a team that dominated the National Basketball Association in the decade just past, added a bit of typical Russell spice to the award.

"There were only two dominating teams during that decade, the Green Bay Packers and the Celtics," he said. For the spice, he added:

"Big Six," a tag he acquired because of his uniform number, promptly led Boston to the NBA championship, the first of 11 during his 13-year pro career which included an unprecedented eight straight titles.

The Penguins, ranked second nationally in The Associated Press small college poll, now are 18-0 for the season, longest winning streak in the school's history.

Ashland, 17-1 and ranked third in The AP small college poll, recorded its 13th straight win by trimming Calvin 47-41. The Eagles, tops in the nation in defense with an average of 39.2 points a game, went ahead early with an eight-point surge and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Dayton's Ken May scored a career-high 34 points as the Flyers thumped Xavier 90-78. The Musketeers also had been the victims of May's previous high performance, 31 points, earlier this year.

Ohio Conference leader Capital racked up its ninth straight league win by defeating Marietta 80-76. Don Kalb led the winners with 22 points.

In other OC games, Wittenberg edged Ohio Wesleyan 70-67 on Tyrone Curry's four three throws in the closing seconds, and Hiram, led by Larry Mc-

Call and Mark Farrel with 18 points apiece, downed Mount Union 80-71.

Defiance moved into a tie with Wilmington for the Mid-Ohio Conference lead by bombing Findlay 80-62.

Other games: Walsh 90, Point Park 87; Bethany 86, Case Tech 74; Malone 107, Rio Grande 99; Ohio Northern 94, Bluffton 87.

Basket Barrage In College Action

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was a basket barrage, no less, in college basketball.

Pistol Pete Maravich tossed in 52 points, Austin Carr and Ken Durrett each 44, John Roche 34 and Tom Daley and Andy Owens each 33.

Roche scored 30 points of his overall total in the second half as he rallied South Carolina to a 79-71 victory over Temple Wednesday night, the 15th in a row for the nationally second-ranked Gamecocks.

South Carolina was down 33-28 at halftime before Roche erupted after the intermission to turn the game around.

"Roche went to the basket more," explained Frank McGuire, South Carolina coach, after the contest which featured a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia. "If he had gone to the basket earlier he would have had 30 in the first half, too."

That would have given Roche a 60-point night compared to the 52 Maravich canned in leading Louisiana State to a 97-75 triumph over Florida at Gainesville.

Pistol Pete threw in 20 field goals and 12-of-16 free throws to up his all-time collegiate career scoring record to 3,088 points.

Carr got his 44 points for Notre Dame as he paced the Irish over St. Peters 135-88 at South Bend. Durrett tallied his 44 for LaSalle as the Explorers humbled Lafayette 102-73 in the opener of the Philadelphia twin bill.

Daley collected his 33 for Penn State at University Park, Pa. where the Nittany Lions beat Syracuse 103-95. Owens got his 33 for Florida in the Gators' losing cause against LSU.

North Carolina State, No. 5 in The Associated Press poll, downed Maryland 64-54 at Raleigh for the Wolfpack's 16th victory against one defeat.

The Providence Friars upset

19th-ranked Villanova 54-44 on the shooting of Jim Larrange. He tied the score at 41-41 then put the Friars ahead to stay with another field goal. Altogether he tallied 18 points in the Friars' home court triumph.

Duquesne came from behind to beat Holy Cross 82-72 at Worcester paced by Mickey Davis' 25 points.

Virginia Tech shaded West Virginia 76-75. Louisville clicked over Memphis State 77-48. Duke beat Clemson 72-68. Georgia tripped Georgia Tech 74-69 and Ohio U. took Toledo 80-67. St. John's of New York defeated Rhode Island 85-67 in the completion of Tuesday night's suspended game.

All-American Calvin Murphy, usually a high scorer, matched his season low of 22 points, as Niagara trounced Buffalo 98-68. Murphy ran into foul trouble and sat out most of the second half.

Among the small colleges Dave Auten broke loose for 43 points in leading Amherst over Springfield 105-98 in double overtime. Greg Hill and Mike White each got 39 for American International as AIC downed Hartford 118-101.

Hawks Top N.Y. Knicks; Pistons Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The accurate bombardment of Lou Hudson and Dave Bing exploded two nine-game winning streaks in the National Basketball Association.

Hudson gunned in 36 points as the Atlanta Hawks trounced Eastern Division-leading New York 111-96 Wednesday night and snapped the Knicks' winning streak. It was the Knicks' worst beating of the season.

The victory also moved the Hawks into first place in the West by a half game over the Los Angeles Lakers, who had their victory string snapped, 125-109, by the Detroit Pistons as Bing fired in 40 points.

Milwaukeeke turned back San Diego 141-123 and Seattle topped Cincinnati 121-115 in other NBA games.

Tied 76-76 early in the final quarter, the Hawks broke the game open by racing to a 92-79 lead with 6:20 left.

Hudson scored 10 points and Walt Hazzard got eight of his 27 in the quarter. Willis Reed led New York with 26 points. The loss left New York 6½ games ahead of second-place Milwaukee.

Bing pumped in 16 points in the fourth quarter as Detroit snapped a three-game losing streak. Otto Moore added 23 points for the Pistons. Keith Erickson scored 24 for the Lakers, who played without Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, out with injuries.

Milwaukeeke whipped San Diego for the sixth straight time this season, breaking the game open in the second period by outscoring the Rockets 36-20.

Wood Brothers, Cale Yarborough Ready For Race

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Wood brothers, Glen and Leonard, are quiet Virginians who smile a lot, say very little that is important and build among the best stock racing cars in the world.

They were leaping for joy Wednesday. Their driver was back in the cockpit and showing his old form.

The Wood brothers and stocky, ex-football player Cale Yarborough have been among the most successful racing combinations around. They have won almost a quarter of a million dollars in two years.

But last December, in the final big race of the NASCAR Grand National season, Yarborough's car smacked the wall of the new Texas International Speedway at College Station and his driver was hospitalized, severely hurt.

Doctors in Texas and in Florence, S.C., near where Yarborough makes his home, despaired of his ever driving again.

Two weeks ago, however, Yarborough walked out of a clinic in Florence and announced he was ready to go racing. Even the Woods couldn't believe it.

Cale arrived in Daytona Beach shortly after noon Wednesday, bringing with him a medical release from his South Carolina doctor. He checked in at the track hospital, cleared inspection there and was sent to Halifax General Hospital in town for an orthopedic examination that included X-rays.

"We found him in excellent shape to go racing," said Dr. A. A. Monaco, chief of the track's medical staff.

And that was the reason the Wood brothers, not to mention Yarborough, were jumping for joy in the garage area where drivers and crews were preparing their cars for qualifying trials Sunday for Feb. 22's Daytona 500 pole positions.

Their relief, however, was even more boundless an hour later when Yarborough took the white and maroon Mercury No. 21 on the track and was clocked at a lap speed of 190.737 miles per hour—a record if it could have been declared official.

Yarborough's speed wasn't the best of Wednesday's first practice session for the big stock cars. Charlie Glotzbach turned a 2½ mile lap at 191.709 m.p.h., and Lee Roy Yarborough's Ford posted 191.542. Buddy Baker did 191.481 in a Dodge.

Big Bo Belinsky Acquired By Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bo Belinsky, colorful left hand pitcher whose antics were duly reported as he moved from club to club in five major league cities said today he hopes to make the Cincinnati Reds this spring even if he has to pitch in relief.

"I'll relieve if they want," said the 33-year-old Belinsky, whose contract the Reds acquired Wednesday from Pittsburgh.

"The only thing is that I have to be used. When I sit around I become a wild man. I feel I have to be a world-beater when I go in there and you just can't do it when you don't pitch often."

Belinsky, who had been under contract to the Pirate's Columbus Jets team in the International League, is tentatively assigned to the Reds Indianapolis Indians team of the American Association but will train with the Reds in Tampa, Fla., this spring.

Bob Jacobs of Wyoming led the nation's kick scorers in 1969 with 76 points, one more than Dennis Leuthauser of the Air Force Academy.

Bob Hope Golf Tourney Unique, Often Confusing

By BOB GREEN

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The Bob Hope Classic, with its unique, often confusing format calls for a slightly different approach to golf, Arnold Palmer said.

"Well," Palmer said with a broad grin, "it requires a more liberal approach. If you can't concentrate, you sure shouldn't be playing in this tournament."

Palmer had a 68, four under par and one stroke off the lead Wednesday in the opening round of the only 90-hole event on the pro tour.

Veteran Bob Rosburg, Charles Coody, Labron Harris, Bruce Devlin and Larry Ziegler all had 67s to lead the closely bunched field.

Bobby Greenwood and Rod Funsteth matched Palmer's 68. U.S. Open champion Orville Moody and Masters title-holder George Archer were among the dozen at 69. Lee Trevino and Pete Brown, the long-shot winner of last week's Andy Williams-San Diego Open, were in the big bunch at 70.

Defending champion Billy Casper had a 71. Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and British Open champ Tony Jacklin are not competing.

The 136 pros play one round on each of four courses—with a different team of three amateurs each day—for the first four days. Playing in foursomes, with three amateurs, it took almost five hours to play a round the first day.

"If you're playing good, it doesn't bother you at all," the free wheeling Ziegler said. "If you're playing bad, well . . ."

"It may require more concentration, Coody said.

"A lot depends on the amateurs you have to be with," said Devlin.

Palmer agreed.

"Usually the amateurs are pretty good," he said. "But you can get situations. Say you've South Central Ohio League and 0-14 record overall.

Let the record be deceiving. The Indians have shown some pretty good stuff even though they are winless. They have lost some close ones in the SCOL and last week took Washington C. H. down to the wire before dropping a 72-64 decision.

Paced by their big freshman ace, Don Jewett, who leads the club in scoring and rebounding and getting plenty of help from guard Doug Trout the Indians can put together an offense.

ON defense they will press and gave Washington trouble last week causing the Blue Lions to commit some costly turnovers in the fracas.

Trying to improve their 1-7 league record and 3-11 overall standing will be the aim of the Tigers.

Still playing without the services of Bryce Brown the Tigers are hurting on the boards and will try to correct this situation by getting a combined team effort on the backstop.

With Charlie Jackson pacing the squad and Ty Ankrom, Randy Halley, Tom Bowers and Mark Lutz making up the nucleus, Coach John Lawhorn has been going to the bench in an attempt to add punch to the Red and Black. John Hunt and Dick Walters were injected into the lineup last week with good results.

Saturday night the Tigers will be at Westfall for a battle with the Mustangs. This is another neighborhood rivalry and anything can happen.

In the opening game of the year the Red and Black downed the Mustangs on the Junior High floor, 57-53 and you can bet it is still in the herd's craw.

WESTFALL will be going into the game after a big Friday night tussle with Teays Valley and whatever develops on Friday may have a serious effect on Saturday night's encounter.

You can bet that Mr. Greg Bigam and company would like nothing better than a double victory this weekend.

It will be interesting to see what develops and there will be a packed house at the Mustang corral Saturday night to watch it.

East-West Baseball Classic Scheduled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the former Yankee Clipper, and Roy Campanella, former star catcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, will manage in the East-West Major League Baseball Classic set for March 28 at Dodger Stadium.

DiMaggio will direct the Western Division stars and Campy will mastermind the East's moves, a spokesman for the sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference said Wednesday.

The game, sanctioned by the major league clubs and players, will benefit the SCLC Foundation and the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Center under construction in Atlanta.

Cycle Enthusiasts Open Event Friday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mention the name of Mert Lawwill as a top-flight athlete and the average sports buff would raise his eyebrows.

Lawwill, 5-foot-6 and 138 pounds, looks more like the guy in the stands.

However, he's the No. 1 glamour boy of the American Motorcycle Association's championship circuit, which launches its 33-event, $283,000 1970 tour in the Houston Astrodome Friday and Saturday.

got an important putt. The amateur is on in eight and is putting for a nine and wants to practice his put. Well, it can get pretty distracting.

The 40-year-old master had six birdies, missed five other birdie putts of 10 feet or less and had two bogeys, one on the last hole that would have given him a share of the lead. He missed the green on that one, then missed a five-foot putt.

He played at Indian Wells, as did the 43-year-old Rosburg, a former PGA champ who had just returned to the tour on a full-time basis. Rosburg spiced his round with an eagle three, pitching in from 80 feet on the par five eighth.

Devlin, a one-time master plumber from Australia, Ziegler and Harris, a former amateur champ, all played La Quinta, generally considered the toughest of the four courses, and all had strings of three consecutive birdies.

OU Gets Firmer Grip On MAC Leadership

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio University's classy Bobcats took a tighter grip on the Mid-American Conference lead by downing Toledo 80-67, and basketball Coach Jim Snyder is beginning to see some light at the end of the title trail.

"It could still go down to the end," Snyder said after the game Wednesday night, "but we're hoping these guys (Toledo) can carry it to Bowling Green."

Toledo and the second-place Falcons, traditional rivals, meet at Bowling Green Feb. 21.

The win gave Ohio University a 6-1 record in the MAC and a full game lead over Bowling Green (4-1).

"I told the kids a loss wasn't going to kill us but a win sure could put you in better position," Snyder said, noting the Bobcats have only one league game left on the road. They go to Miami a week from Saturday.

Ohio U. grabbed an early lead over the Rockets and never was in serious trouble. Greg McDivitt lead the Bobcats with 25 points, while John Canine, who thrills crowds with his wild shot put-like jumper, added 23.

"Canine takes shots we say nobody should be taking — except him," Snyder said.

Third-place Miami beat Marshall 71-67 in a non-loop contest Wednesday night. The Redskins' Mike Wren took scoring honors with 25 points.

Youngstown State kept its perfect record intact and handed Coach Dom Rosselli the 49th victory of his career by whipping Gannon 94-64.

By getting the 400th, Rosselli reached a plateau attained by only seven other collegiate basketball coaches still active. During his 26 years as the Youngstown coach, his teams have lost 251 games.

Bill Russell Cage Player Of The Decade

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—William F. Russell, the biggest Bill of the Boston Celtics, was duly appreciative—but not too amazed — that he had been named Basketball Player of the Decade in a special 1960-69 poll by The Associated Press.

And the key star and 1968-69 coach of a team that dominated the National Basketball Association in the decade just past, added a bit of typical Russell spice to the award.

"There were only two dominating teams during that decade, the Green Bay Packers and the Celtics," he said. For the spice, he added:

"I was offended when one television network named the New York Mets as the team of the decade."

"They could've just as well named the New York Jets. They were an expansion team, too, and they didn't win anything until the last year of the decade."

Russell's credentials are considerable.

The list started at McLymonds High School in Oakland, Calif., and began growing at the University of San Francisco where Russell, an All-American, helped the Dons win 60 straight games, still the all-time collegiate record.

He was also a pivotal player on the undefeated United States basketball team which won the gold medal at the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia.

The 6-foot-10 center joined the Celtics in 1957 as their No. 1 pick—a selection which would have gone to St. Louis were it not for the fact that the Hawks, fearing he might sign instead with the Harlem Globetrotters, traded their rights to Russell in exchange for Cliff Hagan and Ed Macauley.

"Big Six," a tag he acquired because of his uniform number, promptly led Boston to the NBA championship, the first of 11 during his 13-year pro career which included an unprecedented eight straight titles.

The Penguins, ranked second nationally in The Associated Press small college poll, now are 18-0 for the season, longest winning streak in the school's history.

Ashland, 17-1 and ranked third in The AP small college poll, recorded its 13th straight win by trimming Calvin 47-41. The Eagles, tops in the nation in defense with an average of 39.2 points a game, went ahead early with an eight-point surge and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Dayton's Ken May scored a career-high 34 points as the Flyers thumped Xavier 90-78. The Musketeers also had been the victims of May's previous high performance, 31 points, earlier this year. Ohio Conference leader Capital racked up its ninth straight league win by defeating Marietta 80-76. Don Kalb led the winners with 22 points.

In other OC games, Wittenberg edged Ohio Wesleyan 70-67 on Tyrone Curry's four three throws in the closing seconds, and Hiram, led by Larry Mc-

Basket Barrage In College Action

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer It was a basket barrage, no less, in college basketball.

Pistol Pete Maravich tossed in 52 points, Austin Carr and Ken Durrett each 44, John Roche 34 and Tom Daley and Andy Owens each 33.

Roche scored 30 points of his overall total in the second half as he rallied South Carolina to a 79-71 victory over Temple Wednesday night, the 15th in a row for the nationally second-ranked Gamecocks.

South Carolina was down 33-28 at halftime before Roche erupted after the intermission to turn the game around.

"Roche went to the basket more," explained Frank McGuire, South Carolina coach,

Nets Win Over Pacers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Indiana Pacers, runaway leaders in the Eastern Division, ran into the lowly New York Nets Wednesday night and came away losers for the fourth time this season.

The Pacers, who own the best record in the American Basketball Association with a 38-1 mark, dropped a 102-92 decision to the Nets, evening their season series at four games apiece.

In other ABA games Pittsburgh nipped Miami 110-109 and New Orleans ripped Los Angeles 111-109 in overtime.

The Nets, owners of a 24-32 mark and playing without leading scorer Lavern Tart, got scoring punch from guard Walt Simon, who dropped in 24 points.

The score switched hands 17 times before Simon tied it at 76-all and Sonny Dove hit a free throw to put the Nets ahead for good. Dove added 12 points while Ed Johnson had 23 for the winners. Bob Netolicky had 30 points for the Pacers, whose lead over Kentucky slipped to 8½ games.

Among the small colleges Dave Auten broke loose for 43 points in leading Amherst over Springfield 105-98 in double overtime. Greg Hill and Mike White each got 39 for American International as AIC downed Hartford 118-101.

Hawks Top N.Y. Knicks; Pistons Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The accurate bombardment of Lou Hudson and Dave Bing exploded two nine-game winning streaks in the National Basketball Association.

Hudson gunned in 36 points as the Atlanta Hawks trounced Eastern Division-leading New York 111-96 Wednesday night and snapped the Knicks' winning streak. It was the Knicks' worst beating of the season.

The victory also moved the Hawks into first place in the West by a half game over the Los Angeles Lakers, who had their victory string snapped, 125-109, by the Detroit Pistons as Bing fired in 40 points.

Milwaukee turned back San Diego 141-123 and Seattle topped Cincinnati 121-115 in other NBA games.

Tied 76-76 early in the final quarter, the Hawks broke the game open by racing to a 92-79 lead with 6:20 left.

Hudson scored 10 points and Walt Hazzard got eight of his 27 in the quarter. Willis Reed led New York with 28 points. The loss left New York 6½ games ahead of second-place Milwaukee.

Bing pumped in 16 points in the fourth quarter as Detroit snapped a three-game losing streak. Otto Moore added 23 points for the Pistons. Keith Erickson scored 24 for the Lakers, who played without Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, out with injuries.

Milwaukee whipped San Diego for the sixth straight time this season, breaking the game open in the second period by outscoring the Rockets 36-20.

Bob Jacobs of Wyoming led the nation's kick scorers in 1969 with 76 points, one more than Dennis Luthausen of the Air Force Academy.

Cage Activity Around The State

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bob Hugh, who knew the joy of scoring 60 points as a high school basketball player, can still find humor in his despair of coaching a team that's lost 36 straight games.

"I'm running out of speeches," admitted Hugh, whose Scio quintet has lost 15 in a row this winter to stretch their three-season losing streak to 36.

What happens if the Harrison County team should win one of its three remaining games with Lakeland, Dillondale or Jewett?

"We'll burn the town down," jokingly answered Hugh, whose 60 points still stands as a one-game Harrison County scoring record.

"I'm not at all discouraged," Hugh said. "I have lived here and I know the situation."

He starts two freshmen, two sophomores and one junior and has instituted an elementary program for the high school, which has only 88 boys in the upper four grades.

Stan Mikita Leads Chicago To Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It's been feast or famine for Chicago's Stan Mikita. For the first nine games of the National Hockey League season, it was famine for the slick Black Hawk center. He was held scoreless over that three-week period.

Ever since, it's been one big feast for Mikita, who enjoyed his second straight five-point game Wednesday night, leading Chicago to an 8-4 victory over Boston.

Roth is proud of its guards, Donald Smith, averaging 23.8 points and Phillip Lumpkin 22.2. Dan Gerhard, 6-3 senior forward, leads Chaminade with a 19.3 average.

Cage Activity Around The State

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bob Hugg, who knew the joy of scoring 60 points as a high school basketball player, can still find humor in his despair of coaching a team that's lost 36 straight games.

"I'm running out of speeches," admitted Hugg, whose Scio quintet has lost 15 in a row this winter to stretch their three-season losing streak to 36.

What happens if the Harrison County team should win one of its three remaining games with Lakeland, Dillondale or Jewett?

"We'll burn the town down," jokingly answered Hugg, whose 60 points still stands as a one-game Harrison County scoring record.

"I'm not at all discouraged," Hugg said. "I have lived here and I know the situation."

He starts two freshmen, two sophomores and one junior and has instituted an elementary program for the high school, which has only 85 boys in the upper four grades.

Around Ohio: An overflow crowd sat down during the National Anthem Friday night at the Conotton Valley at Jewett game for safety's sake. Officials were afraid special bleachers on the stage couldn't take the jostling of the big crowd. New Philadelphia has whipped Dover 17 straight times since 1962-63.

Waverly won the football and basketball crowns in its final Southern Ohio Conference season before moving into the Southern Ohio League next season.

Lima Senior (12 - 1) has a chance to avenge its only loss of the season 85-65 when Middletown visits Friday. . . Steve Bowers, a 6-foot-3 Washington Court House guard, is averaging 28.7 points and 10 rebounds.

Tim Warner of Northmoor earned a personal high 39 points and a team season high for Northmoor in a 76-69 win over Colonel Crawford last week. . . One of the scourges of Central Ohio is Grove City (16-0), champ of the Mid-East.

Jerry Duhme of Jonathan Alder owned a 77-point, 42-rebound weekend in two Pioneer games. . . Newark, tied with Zanesville for the Central Ohio League, is nearing its seventh straight title or co-title. Dennis Odle is averaging 21 points and John Snow 17 for the Wildcats. The battle between top-ranked Dayton Chaminade and ninth ranked Dayton Roth Feb. 14, will be the first high school game ever played in the University of Dayton Fieldhouse (13,450 seats).

Roth is proud of its guards, Donald Smith, averaging 23.8 points and Phillip Lumpkin 22.2. . . Dan Gerhardt, 6-3 senior forward, leads Chaminade with a .93 average.

Chuck Saus scored 55 points for Yorkville but it was 19 points short of the school record his coach, Ken Alessi, earned 20 years ago. . . Rich Davis of Sandusky St. Mary broke his two-week old school mark when he fired in 55 points against Clyde.

Fostoria St. Wendelin has won three one-pointers and its closest loss has been by 12 points. . . Bowling Green won its first in 15 games last week 49-46 over Fostoria.

Middletown blew an 18-point halftime lead against Hamilton Garfield as Garfield won 88-81 to wrap up the greater Miami Conference title. . . Middletown Fenwick, the only Class A school in the Mid-Miami, can clinch that crown by beating Franklin this week.

Stan Mikita Leads Chicago To Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It's been feast or famine for Chicago's Stan Mikita.

For the first nine games of the National Hockey League season, it was famine for the slick Black Hawk center. He was held scoreless over that three-week period.

Ever since, it's been one big feast for Mikita, who enjoyed his second straight five-point game Wednesday night, leading Chicago to an 8-4 victory over Boston.

General Tel Announces Plans For Improvements

General Telephone Co. of Ohio announced today that $604,600 will be spent on service improvements in its Circleville district this year.

Joseph C. Sharp, southern division manager, reported there are almost 50 projects scheduled, including a new district plant facility near Circleville.

Half of the scheduled projects will be aimed at upgrading outdoor customer distribution facilities (cables and poles) throughout the eight-exchange district. In addition, equipment is being installed to increase local, long distance and inter-exchange calling paths in the various exchanges.

Included in the district are the Circleville, Amanda, Ashville, Baltimore, Laurelville, Millersport, Pleasantville, and Williamsport exchanges. It provides phone service in a 648-square-mile area, mainly in Pickaway, Fairfield, and Hocking counties. There is some overlap in Licking, Perry, Ross and Vinton counties.

Construction of the new district plant building, slated to begin this month, is one of the major projects on the 1970 worksheets. Approximately $170,000 has been earmarked for this improvement.

The new facility will be located about 1,000 feet from the northeast corporate limits of Circleville on U. S. 22. Plant operations, now housed in a leased building on S. Scioto Street, will move to the new quarters in June.

Included in the new plant building is space for offices, operations and general equipment storage for the district. Provisions also have been incorporated in the project for district installation and construction vehicle parking and routine maintenance facilities.

In the Circleville exchange, General will spend $61,300 on cable distribution improvement in five projects. These are planned to meet future growth of the area and increase lines available to continue party-line reductions.

A $227,700 project, launched last year, to add 800 customer lines and terminals for 500 phone numbers in the Circleville exchange will be completed by March 1.

Trunk facilities at the Amanda exchange office will be boosted in a $9,000 project this year. It is planned to meet anticipated increases in customer calls to and from Canal Winchester and Lancaster.

Additions and improvements also are planned for outdoor cable distribution facilities in the Amanda exchange. Four projects are scheduled at the cost of $36,300 and plans for three more will be started this year by General engineers.

Five cable distribution facility additions also are planned in the Ashville exchange at a cost of $62,200.

Urban cable distribution will be upgraded in a $14,400 project scheduled in the Baltimore exchange. Distribution cables along Ohio 37 and 158 also will be improved in three projects exceeding $20,000.

A remote test unit will be installed in the Baltimore office, providing greater speed in locating and correcting service problems in the exchange.

More calling paths to Lancaster will be provided when a $11,300 project is completed in the Millersport exchange. A general cable addition program to improve service in the urban area of the exchange also will be completed this year at a cost of $14,800.

Rural and urban cable distribution in the Pleasantville exchange will be "beefed up" in a $10,700 project on General's worksheets this year. Calling paths to Lancaster also will be boosted in a $11,900 project.

Sharp noted that district improvements are part of a $9.69 million General of Ohio has budgeted for expansion of its southern division.

Easter Seal Society Holds Work Session

Members of the Pickaway County Easter Seal Society held an all day meeting Tuesday at headquarters, 108 Reber Avenue, to prepare Easter Seal Campaign materials for mailing.

Some 9,000 pieces of mail are being prepared for the Campaign which is Feb. 23 through March 29.

Mrs. Elliott Mason, society president, presided over the business session, at which time she read several communications of interest to the group.

A report was heard from the Pickaway County Speech and Hearing Clinic and plans made for members to assist at the Clinic.

It was noted that authorization for medication and transportation had been granted.

Campaign committee reports were heard and it was noted that Lily Day will be March 21.

Tentative plans were made for members to attend the Annual State Easter Seal Kick-Off meeting in Columbus on February 22.

The group will be holding another work day Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Bar Group Eyes Police Gun Use

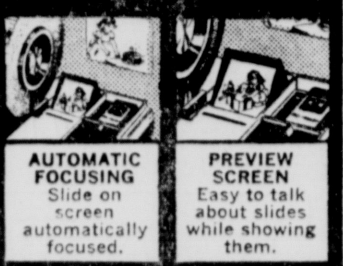

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Safety Director James Hughes said Wednesday the Columbus Bar Association has agreed to work with police in developing guidelines on the use of weapons.

He said the Bar Association President Jack R. Alton will name a five-member committee to study current policies and make recommendations.

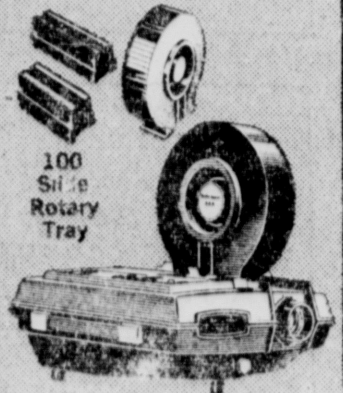

The action followed Negro demonstrations and complaints over recent slayings by police of three burglars.

Negro leaders demanded appointment of a civilian police review board, but Hughes rejected that proposal, saying review of police actions was his job.

Social Security Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I would like to know what the difference is between my Social Security number and my claim number?

A — You get your Social Security number when you start to work and use this number throughout your working years. When you apply for Social Security benefits, or Medicare, you then receive a claim number. This number will have a letter, e.g., A, B, etc. after it. The claim number might not be the number under which you worked. It will be the number on whose record you qualify for benefits. When you contact the social security office, refer to your claim number if you are eligible for social security benefits or Medicare.

Q — My son has never been able to work as he has been disabled since birth. I've been told that there are benefits payable for him. Will you please explain this?

A — There are benefits payable for a child who has never been able to work due to a disability. The requirements are: the parent is receiving social security benefits or died and had worked under social security, or was injured. The child's disability must have started before age 18.

Q — My mother's social security benefits are paid to me as she is not able to manage her money. She has lived with me for a number of years, but due to the care she now requires, I have to place her in a nursing home. Should I notify the social security office of this?

A — Since you are receiving social security benefits for your mother as her representative payee, you are required to notify the social security office when she leaves your care or changes her place of residence.

Q — I am attending college on a full-time basis and receiving social security benefits. I do not plan to return to school next term during the day, but will enroll in night school. Should I notify the social security office of this change?

A — Yes. Any change in school status must be reported by social security beneficiaries. In your particular case, if your night school is not considered full time attendance your social security benefits would stop. When you applied for social security payments, instructions were given to you regarding reporting changes in school status as well as certain other events. Refer to these instructions, or contact your social security office if you have any questions on student benefits.
